Newton High Launches Pilot Program To Teach Many Foreign Tongues

Newton High School this week instituted a PTA-sponsored, long-range program designed to put Americans on an equal footing with Russians in the battle for the minds of men in nations all over the world.

A two-hour a week class in Arabic with 16 high school Juniors began yesterday and next week a similar class will start in Japanese. Classes in other languages are contemplated in the future.

Teachers of the two pilot-classes are graduate students at Boston University and they will teach their native tongues and culture.

Faleh Kabarith, a student at the Graduate School of Public Relations and Communications, will teach the class in Arabic. The class in Japanese will be given by Miss Akemi

MTA Sees More Highland Riders

After a sharp drop in patronage on the opening day of increased MTA fares, patronage on the Highland Branch picked up slowly and by Wednesday evening was nearly back to normal, an MTA spokesman said today.

However, the drop in patronage at the Riverside parking lot still was apparent. It was pointed out that two or three weeks must elapse before any definite picture can be seen as to the likely effect of the 100 per cent fare increases on the ride to Boston.

The rate went from 20 to 40 cents from Riverside under the new zone fare system. From the Reservoir Station to

Settle For $12

A large safe in an inner office of the Frost Motors at 399 Washington Street, Newton, proved too tough and burglars had to be content with $12 from a petty cash box, according to reports received by police over the weekend.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs is opposed for reelection to a second term. The lack of any mayoralty fight is the principal reason more than half the city's registered voters are likely to stay away from the polls.

However, Tuesday night's returns will decide hot battles for several Aldermanic and School Board seats and resolve the fluoridation issue.

Unlike many confusing referenda, the fluoridation question will be easy for the voters to understand. As printed on the ballot, it reads: "Shall the public water supply for domestic use in this city be fluoridated?"

Opposing groups have clashed violently on the fluoridation issue, one appealing for a "Yes" vote, the other urging that the referendum be rejected.

Former Representative Irene K. Thresher is serving as spokesman for the pro-fluoridation forces.

Referendum On Pay for Teachers

A second referendum question to appear on the ballot involves equal pay for men and women teachers in the Newton school system.

20,000 Voters Will Ballot Tuesday In Alderman, School Board Tests

An estimated 20,000 voters will go to the polls in Newton next Tuesday to settle a number of lively contests for places on the Board of Aldermen and School Committee and to decide whether the city's water system should be fluoridated.

Newton has slightly more than 49,000 voters registered and eligible to cast ballots, but Tuesday's election is expected to draw out only about 40 per cent of them. Polling places in the city will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Gala Hallowe'en Parties Termed Huge Success For 18,000 Goblins

The spooks even scared each other, the witches rode on whisk brooms in this compact age and trick-n-treaters collected for UNICEF Tuesday night in what was called the best and biggest Hallowe'en observance.

An estimated 18,000 school-age youngsters attended over 400 parties held throughout the city for the 21st year of Newton's nationally acclaimed program.

The vital role played by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson and General Chairman Dr. R. Emerson Sylvester.

Whitmore Seeks Signatures To Block Toll Road

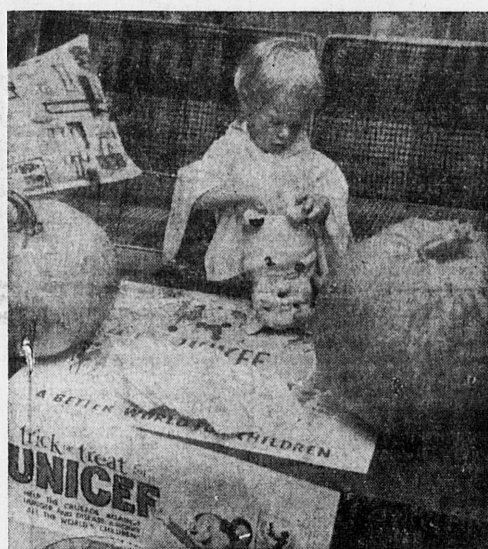

Former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., is spearheading a campaign to obtain signatures on a referendum petition seeking the repeal of a law authorizing the construction of a toll road through Newton.

Through typographical error in last week's Graphic it was indicated that ex-Mayor Whitmore is leading a drive for a toll road. Mr. Whitmore, of course, has been and is an unswerving opponent to a toll road in the city.

The petition for which ex-Mayor Whitmore, Mr. Gibbs and others are getting signatures would place a referendum on next year's State election ballot for a vote by the people on the question of repealing the law, which permits the extension of the Toll Road and has been interpreted as forbidding the erection of a freeway from the Weston terminus of the Turnpike in to Boston.

"You've been trying to start something ever since you got those vitamins in the Want Ads!"

SMALLEST GHOST AIDS CAUSE—Sharon Hope Conner of Newton emptied her piggy bank Tuesday night to aid UNICEF and its Hallowe'en "Trick or Treat" campaign before playing "ghost." Her contribution aided the United Nations Children's Fund. Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst is in charge of the program in Newton.

Deficit Forces Planned Hike In Water Rate

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs commented today that the MDC has "created an awful deficit in their operations on a state level" following announcement that a 50 per cent increase in water rates would be sought. The Metropolitan District Commission announced it would seek legislation for the big boost at the 1962 session. The present charge of $80 per million gallons to the cities and towns is expected to be increased to $120.

"While I don't like to see the rates go up, I can't see any alternative," Mayor Gibbs said.

Glovsky Outlines City Problems In Vigorous Bid For Reelection

William M. Glovsky, candidate to be retained as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2, has been waging an extensive campaign in all parts of the city.

In addressing various groups, Glovsky has discussed subjects such as land use planning, zoning, municipal finance, the school system, the library system, traffic and parking problems and juvenile delinquency.

Glovsky has declared that he does not believe the problem of juvenile delinquency is of the nature or proportions recently described in the press.

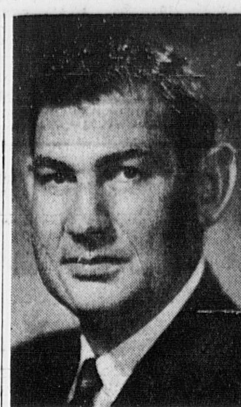

He voiced the opinion that a more concentrated community effort to harness the energies of the younger members of the population is called for. He expressed the view that it is extremely important that parents assume a more direct responsibility for implanting in their children a better sense of values, a greater respect for authority and a better appreciation of social mores.

In the area of land uses, Glovsky said that more extensive and long range planning is required. He decried the necessity of the Board of Aldermen passing on individual zoning problems without adequate long range standards or criteria.

"While our present City Planner is eminently well qualified, we should bear in mind that he spends only part time on the problems of Newton, while the neighboring Town of Brookline has three full time City Planners, he observed.

Glovsky commended the step taken by the Mayor and the Board for initiating an Urban Renewal study program, but declared that this is only a first step which must be diligently pursued and implemented.

In commenting on the proposed North Side School Building program, Glovsky stated that "It was gratifying to have participated in the effort to accelerate the accomplishment of this vital and urgently needed project. While some of us have been impatient to see the North Side School Building program get under way, it appears that our efforts are about to be rewarded."

Glovsky pointed out that a solution must be found to the parking problem in many of the city's villages. Inadequate parking facilities are not only harmful to Newton's businessmen, but also a serious inconvenience to shoppers, he added.

Glovsky's candidacy has been endorsed by the Newton Civic Association and such prominent citizens as former Mayor Howard Whitmore and School Committee Chairman Haskell C. Freedman.

VICTOR M. KUMIN

Victor Kumin Seeks Ward 5 Alderman Post

An appeal to all citizens of Newton to turn out to vote next Tuesday was sounded today by Victor M. Kumin as he neared the close of his campaign for election as Ward Alderman from Ward 5. Kumin lives at 40 Bradford rd., Newton Highlands.

Kumin declared that the people of Newton must face realistically the serious problems ahead. "The city is hard pressed to maintain its suburban status in the midst of a growing urban metropolis. Decisions must be made which will determine the character of the city for perhaps 50 years even while the prospects for continuing world peace are threatened daily," he asserted.

At meetings throughout the ward Kumin has explained his stand in favor of city planning, regional planning, federal aid to education, more efficient mass transportation and more equitable tax assessment. He has vigorously opposed municipal construction of mass fallout shelters, maintaining that they could not provide effective protection from nuclear attack for the population as a whole and would, instead, create a false sense of security.

Political Highlights

An attempt was made last year to persuade him to stand for the Governorship. The two leading contenders then for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination — Joseph D. Ward and Endicott Peabody — both had been defeated by McCormack in primaries, Ward in 1956 and Peabody in 1958. McCormack unquestionably would have been a stronger candidate than either of the two.

But he told those who tried to induce him to enter the race for Governor that he preferred to gamble that John F. Kennedy would be elected President of the United States. He said that if Kennedy was elevated to the Presidency he would seek Kennedy's seat in the Senate.

If Richard M. Nixon had defeated Kennedy last November, McCormack would have taken the wrong gamble and would have had to revise his immediate political plans.

When Kennedy topped Nixon, McCormack immediately drew a bead on the Senate seat Kennedy was relinquishing, and he hasn't shifted his target.

McCormack would have liked the appointment to Kennedy's post in the Senate last December.

But he recognized the fairness of giving it to someone who would serve as seat-warmer for two years so that all candidates for the office would start on equal terms in the 1962 campaign.

Recent attempts to sell McCormack the idea of becoming a candidate for governor have been brushed aside. His answer has been that since he passed up a chance at the Governorship last year on the gamble that there might be an opening to run for the Senate, it would not make much sense for him to shift now from the senatorial to the gubernatorial race.

McCormack, who is on extremely friendly terms with President Kennedy, hopes ardently to avoid a battle with the President's younger brother. At the same time, however, he does not intend to back away from such a fight if it develops.

An official announcement of McCormack's intention to stand for the Senate probably will be made at the big testimonial dinner to be tendered him in January. In the meantime, however, he'll be running unofficially and buttoning up every delegate vote he can.

A tremendous battle at the Democratic State Convention next June and possibly also in the Democratic primary next September will develop if Ted Kennedy decides to oppose McCormack for the Senate nomination.

The youngest of the Kennedy brothers has indicated privately that he is thinking in terms of a run for the Senate. But he has not committed himself publicly.

Persons close to McCormack do not believe that Kennedy will stand for the Senate. They think he will run either for Congress or Attorney General, with the Governorship a third but somewhat less likely possibility.

Whether they are right or wrong is something only time will determine. However, a national news magazine, which reportedly has a pipeline into the White House, recently reported that the high command in the Kennedy organization had decided that Ted should run for Attorney General and not for the Senate.

The upcoming fight for the Senate seat from which John F. Kennedy resigned after his election as President has been attracting national attention.

One news magazine recently pointed to the possibility that Ted Kennedy and George Lodge, son of former UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, may be the opposing candidate for the Senate next autumn.

That presumably was one of the things which prompted the

Opposes Fluoridation

Editor
Newton Graphic

It behooves everyone who will be asked to vote for or against fluoridation to look into the matter very seriously. The addition of sodium fluoride to drinking water, in even minute quantities, is mass medication, and is taking away one of the essential rights of the American people. What will it do to our bodies when it corrodes water pipes and the sludge caused by its build-up in the pipes has to be cleaned out, and even pipes have to be replaced?

Fluorides are deadly poisons, worse than arsenate of lead, and build up in the bone structure, and in future years will show up in many diseases not prevalent now.

If parents feel that their children need such medication, tablets and other types of medication are available without forcing everyone regardless of whether or not they need or can assimilate it to be medicated.

Heat only activates these chemicals, so that hot soup, hot tea and coffee using water to which sodium fluoride has been added, only adds to the effect of fluoride on people's systems.

Documented reports show that mottling of teeth, breaking down of the enamel on teeth can follow with such use, and it does seem that to force a whole community to use such "treated" water is terribly un-American.

Reports are available from doctors and dentists from all over the world through medical journals attesting to the fact that such indiscriminate use of this chemical in water is injurious to many people and as said before, if dentist or physician feels that certain cases require such medication, many ways are open for its use without subjecting whole masses of people to it and to whom it may be very injurious and perhaps hasten their death.

Let us learn from other countries and some of our own States' mistakes before voting for fluoridation which has been tried and rejected in many of the surrounding cities and towns.

Favors Fluoridation

October 31, 1961
To The Editor
The Newton Graphic

Dear Sir:
As a Newton physician concerned with the health of my patients, I have been studying the fluoridation issue for some time, and must question the claim in recent statements that fluoride is a "treatment", and a risky one at that.

Medically, in growing children, just as calcium from milk and vitamin D build strong bones, so do calcium, vitamin D and fluoride together build strong teeth, he adult, on the other hand, has ceased growing, and easily rid himself of extra calcium, fluoride and other substances as waste.

In all reports I have read in the medical and dental literature, health authorities, some after many years of research, have concluded uniformly that fluoridation is not only effective in preventing tooth decay, but perfectly safe. None has reported any side effects. I have been unable to discover a single opposing view. The only claims that fluoridation is toxic and uncontrolled have been made in non-medical literature mailed to voters in cities where the issue is coming to a vote.

This literature, is presented in a pseudo-scientific form to give an appearance of reliability. Unfortunately, its intent appears to be not to educate, but to frighten people. I earnestly suggest that voters not rely on this type of material, but depend on their own physician or dentist, and take the initiative to call them, or Dr. Phillips, our own Newton Health Officer, about the true value of fluoridation to them and our city.

While it is part of the democratic process to permit each member of the community to speak his piece, it is also part of the democratic process and responsibility for each citizen to judge an issue such as this on the facts and merits of the case. The value and wisdom of fluoridation is scientifically beyond dispute and it is to be hoped, therefore, that Newton's citizens will vote overwhelmingly in favor of this public health measure on election day.

I would also like to comment on two non-medical issues. First, for those concerned with the taste of our water, a sip from any tap in Cambridge, Mass., where water is now fluoridated, will be completely satisfying. Fluoridation imparts no taste to water. Secondly, if fluoridation is the threat to civil liberties it is claimed to be, so are paved streets, sewers and street lights. American citizens provide these for ourselves through our own city government in spite of the fact that a few home owners might have preferred septic tanks, or an amateur astronomer might just prefer darkness at night. Traditionally we do things by a majority vote. This is the true working of democracy. Only in communist countries can a minority dictate to the people.

For these reasons, I believe our citizens should bestir themselves to vote for fluoridation November 7th.

Sincerely,
Ben Selling, M.D.

Judge Issue on Facts

Dear Sir:
As a resident of Newton, I have watched with interest the deliberations concerning the fluoridation of our water supply. Newton has been more fortunate than many communities in having a committee of its citizens who have been working for a number of months at providing factual information for the voters in order that they can arrive at an informed and mature decision. It is disappointing, though not unexpected, to find that at this late hour individuals opposed to fluoridation are circulating the community with pamphlets loaded with mistruths, distortions and emotional propaganda.

While it is part of the democratic process to permit each member of the community to speak his piece, it is also part of the democratic process and responsibility for each citizen to judge an issue such as this on the facts and merits of the case. The value and wisdom of fluoridation is scientifically beyond dispute and it is to be hoped, therefore, that Newton's citizens will vote overwhelmingly in favor of this public health measure on election day.

Health Director Answers Fluoridation Questions

Dr. Harry T. Phillips, director of Public Health in Newton, in a recent interview answered questions on fluoridation. Dr. Phillips stated that this was consistent with the functions of a local health department which is to impart information that will help people to attain better health.

The interviewer, Mrs. Arnold Meltzer, is a member of the Newton Citizen's Committee for Dental Health. The Committee felt it was of particular importance to obtain authoritative answers on this subject since the question of fluoridation will be voted upon by Newton electorate this November 7th. The questions and answers follow:

1. What is fluoride? It is a mineral which is very widely distributed in nature.

2. Is there any fluoride in Newton water at present? Yes, there is, but it is approximately one-tenth the 1 PPM (Part Per Million) recommended by public health scientists for sound teeth structure.

3. Are other substances being added to Newton water now? Yes. Chlorine and Ammonia, and at times copper sulphate.

4. Would fluoride affect the taste of the water? Definitely not.

5. How much will fluoridation cost? The experience of other communities has been that it has cost approximately ten to fifteen cents per person per year. I have been told that in Newton this cost will probably appear on the water bill.

6. What is the present state of dental health of Newton children? In a survey we did in April, 1960, we found that by the age of 13, 99 percent of Newton School children had one or more decayed, missing or filled teeth, and the average number of such teeth per pupil was 7.6 (According to results of studies made in fluoridated areas, this could be reduced to 60 to 70 percent.)

7. Are the effects of fluoridation beneficial only to children? There is a certain amount of evidence accumulating that it does help adults as well, but it is generally accepted that it does the most good for children.

8. Can it be harmful to adults? There have been many studies which have investigated the possibility that the presence of fluorides in the amount of 1 PPM in the public water might be harmful, but all of these studies have concluded that there are no ill effects at all.

9. Could fluoridation in Newton produce mottling of the teeth? No. Mottling occurs in areas containing considerably more than 1 PPM of fluoride which would be the recommended amount in Newton.

10. Since it is possible for

parents to give their own children fluoride in pills or drops, why can't it be handled in this way? While it is true that it is possible in reality we know that few parents are going to be able to maintain the administration of fluorides daily for ten years in order to get the maximum benefit. Students of behavioral science agree with this thesis.

11. Why has fluoridation been turned down in some communities? One of the primary reasons is that people are afraid of new developments, especially if they are not fully informed. This has been seen in their reaction in the past to vaccination for Small Pox, immunization against diphtheria, pasteurization of milk, etc.

12. What proof have you personally that fluoridation is effective and safe? One has to be guided in this, as in all other medical work, by the reports of responsible scientific research. On this basis, fluoridation has been endorsed by such groups as the World Health Organization, the U. S. Public Health Service, the American Dental Association, and a great many others.

A STATEMENT OF CONSCIENCE

We Cannot Compromise
On This Democratic Principle

On Tuesday, Nov. 7, you are asked to vote on the issue of equality of salaries for teachers of both sexes.

This issue can be decided either on grounds of EXPEDIENCY or on grounds of PRINCIPLE.

It is always possible on grounds of expediency to argue against equality of treatment. Discriminatory practices have a long history in America.

But it is never possible to support such practices either temporarily or partially if you believe in one fundamental democratic principle. This principle is that citizens shall not be discriminated against because they are biologically different in race or in sex.

The traditional Newton policy of lower salaries for women teachers is undemocratic because it is discriminatory in regard to sex.

Any compromise proposal on grounds of expediency to equalize salaries on some levels while retaining differentials on other levels is still discriminatory and therefore undemocratic.

We urge our fellow Newton citizens to vote for equalization on Nov. 7. In doing so, we will be following the policy already adopted by a large proportion of American communities. And we will be demonstrating that we want our schools not just to preach but to practice democracy.

Irene K. Thresher Urges Yes-Vote on Fluoridation

Former Representative Irene K. Thresher, honorary chairman of the Newton Citizens Committee for Dental Health, today urged all Newton citizens to vote in next Tuesday's municipal election.

At the same time she asked that they vote in the affirmative on the fluoridation question which will appear on the ballot.

Mrs. Thresher declared that a large number of parents regard fluoridation as "the greatest hope for the dental health of their children."

"During the past year or more, many devoted and civic minded Newton residents have been working towards the fulfillment of a goal of healthy, strong teeth for their children and generations to come," Mrs. Thresher asserted.

"The campaign for fluoridation started with a handful of interested men and women," the ex-legislator continued.

"It grew quickly. Never before in the history of Newton has such a distinguished and knowledgeable group of persons from all fields banded together on one side of one issue to be placed before the voters. Scientific, educational, religious, and business leaders are lending their names and efforts to a crusade for the benefit of this city's children."

"Added to them is the active support of over a thousand Newton mothers and fathers who believe in fluoridation as the greatest hope for the dental health of their children."

"A public notice in this newspaper lists just a small portion of those who have helped to promote fluoridation and are working towards its fruition. It is a group that commands the respect and appreciation of all of Newton."

"I mention just a few basic points to act as a guide for the conscientious voter," Mrs. Thresher stated.

"1. Water fluoridation has been proven by thorough and exhaustive scientific research to prevent at least two out of three cavities in children during their childhood and throughout their lives. This is based on actual experience in fluoridated communities, not on a stated amount of water intake.

"2. Research has also proven to the satisfaction of responsible and authoritative medical and dental opinion that water fluoridation such as that proposed for Newton is completely safe.

"3. The cost of water fluoridation is expected to be approximately fifteen cents per person per year, to appear on the water bill. It is the least expensive, most practical, and surest means of bringing the benefits of fluoride to the children of Newton."

"4. The 'scare' claims of the opposition are not founded on recent investigation nor are they based on fluoridation as it would apply to Newton. There can be no harmful effect to the health of anyone, nor can there be any mottling of the teeth."

"5. Mayor Gibbs has stated that if the Referendum on Fluoridation is voted upon favorably on November 7th, he will immediately ask for the appropriation from the Board of Aldermen to implement it."

Hair Specialist's Widow Dies Of Smoke Inhalation

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon for Mrs. Lois M. Warner, 48, of 16 Moody St., Chestnut Hill, widow of the nationally known scalp specialist, who died last Thursday (No. 19) of smoke inhalation in her second-floor bedroom.

Rev. Thomas H. Lehman, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Newton, officiated at the Joyce and Joyce Funeral Home, Newton. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery, Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Warner continued the hair and scalp specialty business following the death of her husband, John E. Warner, in 1953.

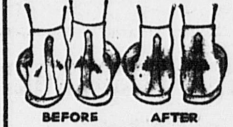

She was pronounced dead at Newton-Wellesley Hospital after doctors worked for an hour in an unsuccessful effort to revive her. They said damage was confined to a foam rubber couch and scorched wood around a window casing.

Firefighter Walter Thompson was treated at the hospital for a gashed hand suffered while fighting the fire. A representative from the state fire marshal's office investigated the cause of the fire.

Mrs. Warner leaves a daughter, Mrs. Mary F. Carron of Chestnut Hill; a son, John A. of Newton Centre; her mother, Mrs. Mary Anderson of King, Wis.; a sister, Mrs. John Schultz of Rothschild, Wis.; four brothers, Chester B. Anderson of Birmingham, Mich., John W. of Dearborn, Mich., George T. of Las Vegas and Carl E. of Warsaw, Wis.

ALFRED R. GUZZI

Alfred R. Guzzi Making Strong Alderman Drive

Former Alderman Alfred R. Guzzi is waging a vigorous drive for election as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2.

Guzzi, who served two terms as Ward Alderman, missed election as Alderman-at-Large by a mere 49 votes four years ago.

In one of his closing appeals for support at the polls next Tuesday, Guzzi reminded his friends that they may vote for him regardless of what ward they live in.

"Many persons don't realize that they may vote for two Aldermen-at-Large from each ward of the city," Guzzi asserted.

"In other words," he emphasized, "you may cast 16 votes for Alderman-at-Large, picking out two from each ward."

"I would be deeply grateful if you would give me one of your two votes for Alderman-at-Large in Ward 2."

Guzzi said he considers the responsibilities, duties and obligations of an Alderman "a sacred trust" and that if he is elected he will do everything within his power to justify the confidence imposed in him.

"I pledge my time, my experience and my faithfulness to your service," Guzzi told the voters of Newton.

During his two terms as an Alderman Guzzi did not miss a meeting either of the Aldermanic Board or of any committee on which he was a member.

He has been active in civic and charitable affairs, is a member of the Newton Civic Association and the Newtonville Improvement Association, a former president of the Franklin School PTA and served recently on a fact-finding committee of parents of the Frank Ashley Day Junior High School.

1 o'clock by the Dorcas Circle; Miss Marion D. Wheeler, president, will be in charge of the business meeting. The worship service will be led by Mrs. Lyla F. Spears. There will be a book display in charge of Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather.

B. U. Professor Favors Equal Pay For Teachers

Strong endorsement of equal pay for men and women teachers, which will appear in a referendum on next Tuesday's ballot, was contained in a statement issued today by Theodore Brameld, Professor of Educational Philosophy, Boston University.

Prof. Brameld, a resident of 73 Fairmont Ave., Newton, said that the U. S. Supreme Court recently upheld the constitutionality of forbidding discrimination in public schools because of race.

"For the same reason," inated against teachers because of sex," Prof. Brameld stated, "I have no doubt that it would find unconstitutional any law in any community that discrim-

J. Howard Snow Seeking Ward 5 Alderman Post

J. Howard Snow of 9 Crofton rd., Waban, is making a vigorous campaign for election as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 5.

Snow maintains that proper planning can produce millions of dollars in additional tax revenue for Newton which would both lower the city's tax rate and enable municipal and schools employees to obtain deserved pay increases.

"Knowing the city and the problems that are most pressing, my main objective as an Alderman would be to begin a practice of metropolitan planning that would create new sources of income," Snow declared in a message to Newton voters.

"Well-designed apartments, new office facilities and professionally planned industrial buildings in special locations will enhance our city and return millions of dollars in tax revenue," Snow continued.

"Can we afford to overlook the obvious remedy to Newton's problems of rising municipal costs?" he demanded.

"Does it seem logical to deny our city employees, our firemen, policemen, school teachers and other municipal workers, their just salary increases when we have the potential income for the asking?" he asked.

Snow stressed that he does not advocate "indiscriminate reasoning for the private gain of an investor or developer."

"However, I do propose that an over-all program for the city should be designed by experts in the field of metropolitan planning," he said. "Only through this sound approach will you and I be assured that the natural environment of our city will be preserved."

Snow said that as director of the Owners Committee of the Boston Real Estate Board he has studied tax problems all over the country.

Claflin PTA First Meeting

The Claflin PTA held its first Board meeting on Monday, Oct. 23. Among the issues discussed was the School Halloween Party and the Book Fair, to be held November 13 through 17, and other current business.

The officers for the coming year are: president: Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Burnap; 1st Vice-President: Mr. and Mrs. William R. Farrell; 2nd Vice-President: Roland Steinmetz; treasurer: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cohen; Auditor: Henry Lambert; Advisor: Mrs. Henry Lambert; Budget: Robert Tennant.

The professor's statement follows in full:

"The referendum on November 7 to determine whether Newton teachers of both sexes shall receive equal salaries provides a great opportunity for community education in fundamental questions of democracy. It is a cause for regret that teacher and parent groups have done so little to provide this opportunity. The result is a good deal of indifference on the part of many voters and a good deal of confusion on the part of many others.

"Basically, however, the issue is a simple but crucial one. The people are asked to decide whether or not they support a central democratic principle. This principle is that citizens shall never receive discriminatory treatment merely because their color is different or their sex is different.

"The Supreme Court of the United States has recently recognized the constitutionality of this principle by forbidding discrimination in public schools because of race. For the same reason, I have no doubt that it would find unconstitutional any law in any community that discriminated against teachers because of sex.

"Ours is one of the relatively few communities left in the country that perpetuates this antiquated practice. Excuses for perpetuating it are, of course, numerous—just as excuses are numerous in the South for perpetuating discriminatory practices against Negro teachers and Negro students. In Newton, reasons range all the way from the greater cost of paying women teachers as much as men teachers to the contention that higher salaries must be offered to men in order to attract and hold them in the profession. All such 'practical' arguments are open to serious objections. The argument of cost, for example, collapses the moment citizens agree that they are willing to pay adequate salaries to all competent teachers, men and women alike. The argument of a differential to attract men has rarely if ever been sustained when examined in the light of impartial research evidence into the practice.

"But all such arguments are, in any case, irrelevant to the central issue. This issue is not one of expediency at all but of clearest democratic principle. Any citizen is violating his belief in that principle when he tolerates any kind of discriminatory practice based on biological inequality.

"In Newton, as in other Massachusetts communities where the issue has been fought, school committees have often opposed a referendum to correct the discriminatory policy because they say that they desire to protect their own autonomy. I submit that this argument is at least as indefensible as others. When a school committee or any

CITY CLERK HEADS WORTHY CAUSE—City Clerk Monte G. Basbas, left, Newton chairman for the Greater Boston 1961 "Appeal for the Child Alone" watches retarded young adults bob for apples at Halloween party held Tuesday night for Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children, Inc.

City Clerk Basbas Heads Retarded Children Drive

Newton City Clerk Monte G. Basbas of 178 Kirkstall road, Newtonville, has been appointed Newton Town Chairman for an appeal for the child alone . . . to be conducted by the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children, Inc., beginning December 10th. It was announced today by John B. Hogan, president of the Association.

The campaign will be conducted throughout the Commonwealth in behalf of the mentally retarded to support medical research in the causes and prevention of retardation and to provide services for retardees.

In accepting the chairmanship, Mr. Basbas said, "The success of our campaign can be determined, in large measure, by community participation. I hope that every person in Newton will pitch in to help us. And, of course, I am confident that the entire community will support our effort to give hope to the mentally retarded. Your voluntary sponsorship is necessary for the future of 3,000 retarded individuals in Newton and 45,000 in the Greater Boston area."

Recognized as an expert on municipal problems, Mr. Basbas has served eight years as city clerk and before that was assistant city clerk for two years. He has been especially active in sponsoring election law legislation. He served two terms as president of the Massachusetts City Clerks' Association.

A decorated veteran of World War II, Mr. Basbas was a combat pilot in the Army Air Force, saw action in the Pacific theatre of operations, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, two Air Medals and eight Battle Stars.

A graduate of Dartmouth College and the Boston University Law School, Mr. Basbas is a practicing attorney. He is married and the father of three children who attend the Cabot school.

ALBERT R. MEZOFF

Mezoff Blasts Absenteeism Of Alderman Hovey

Attorney Albert R. Mezoff today expressed his thanks to his supporters who have assisted in his campaign for election as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 6.

At the same time Mezoff blasted the absentee record of Alderman Charles F. Hovey, whom he is striving to unseat and replace.

He declared that Hovey failed to attend 48 of 98 Aldermanic meetings from 1957 through 1960 and that his absentee record has continued this year.

"This flagrant disregard of responsibility is an affront to the voters amounting to an insult that will no longer be tolerated by the people of Newton," Mezoff asserted.

Atty. Mezoff said that Hovey "has even been rejected by the Newton Civic Association for his performance as an Alderman."

"Although he has had the endorsement of the Newton Civic Association since 1955, that association has refused to endorse him in the current campaign and justifiably so," stated Mezoff.

Mezoff suggested that since he is the only opponent of the present Ward 6 Alderman-at-Large that the voters mark their ballots only for him in this contest and not use a vote on either of the two Aldermen.

"Only in this way can we the people be assured of replacing inaction and absenteeism with a positive, progressive and vigorous voice on the Board," he said.

A practicing attorney, Mezoff graduated from the Harvard Law School and the University of Massachusetts with high honors. He lives with his wife and their three children in Chestnut Hill.

William Carmen Answers Queries on Alderman Bid

William Carmen of 48 Philmore rd., chairman of the Newton Housing Authority, who is campaigning for election as Ward Alderman from Ward 7, today gave his answers to several questions which are being asked by voters of the city. Here are the questions and Mr. Carmen's answers to them.

Q. What do you consider to be the most important problem facing the City of Newton at the present time?

A. Of primary importance is the long-range planning for the future conservation, use or development of all the remaining open areas, as well as for those sections of our city which are blighted or approaching blight. Upon the completion of a study of these problems, full-time professional planning must be utilized to salvage or develop those areas of our city which have aged beyond maximum usefulness and at the same time retain sufficient open area for the use of the ever-increasing population of Newton.

(Carmen also expressed the belief that his experience as a member of the Newton Fair Housing Practices Committee, the Newton Taxpayer's Association and as chairman of the Newton Housing Authority gives him the background necessary to assist in such planning as may be required of an Alderman.)

Q. What do you consider to be the qualifications for a person running for Alderman?

A. Because the position of Aldermen in Newton is one of service to the community in its highest form, the best qualification is prior service to the community. There is no better method of preparation, therefore, than through work and leadership in our various community service organizations. Service in a leadership capacity in such things as Parent-Teacher Associations, the Community Council, civic and veteran organizations as well as service more directly to the city government in the various appointed commissions and authorities all serve as ideal training for the position of Alderman.

(Carmen cited his service as president of three PTA associations, as national commander of the Jewish War Veterans and as chairman of the Newton-Commonwealth Improvement Association.)

Q. Who are the persons interested in the election of William Carmen as Ward 7 Alderman?

A. Hundreds of persons have endorsed my candidacy and are urging my election. Some of them are former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., Representative George Rawson, Representative John Whittemore, former Representative Irene Thresher, former Alderman Richard H. Lovell, Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Shoul, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Wasson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breznjak, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Becherer, Dr. Bernard E. Levine, Elen, Jr., and Jane K. Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dietz, Dr. Francis P. Chiampa, Miss Margaret F. Magoley, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Cohen and Mr. Moses Brudno.

Q. In view of the increasing problems facing the youth of our city, what do you feel the Board of Aldermen could do to assist in this matter?

A. The Board of Aldermen, like any other group of interested citizens, should do all within its power to study this problem. There may be a need for greater emphasis on recreation facilities since these have not grown in proportion to the size of our increased population.

Q. What kind of business and educational background would you consider most helpful to one who wishes to serve as a member of the Board of Aldermen?

A. It would appear to me that since assisting in legislation for city the size of Newton is a very large job in all phases of operation and management, that one who has had personal experience in a major management firm would be particularly well qualified to understand the problems confronting the Board of Aldermen.

Carmen has been engaged professionally for the past 15 years in the management and operation of commercial and residential real estate.

He graduated from the Boston University College of Business Administration, the B.U. College of Industrial Engineering, the U. S. Teacher Training School in Chicago and also attended Tufts College.

Vaccaro is seeking the post on the Aldermanic Board from which Alderman Warren A. Sutherland is retiring.

In a statement asking support of his candidacy, Vaccaro declared that vigorous leadership is needed on the Board of Aldermen "in order to preserve Newton's exemplary residential character, maintain its high standards and support progressive proposals."

"In these changing times an Alderman must possess both the energy of youth and maturity of judgment in order to be of the maximum value and service to the people of our city," Vaccaro asserted.

He said that a fresh approach is needed in meeting a number of the problems confronting the city, including zoning, taxes, municipal finance, urban renewal and long-range city planning.

"Youth can help improve the work, and it can make a real contribution toward progress here in our own city," he asserted.

heads a group which is urging approval of the equal pay referendum. He maintains that the people of Newton are being asked to decide whether or not to support a basic democratic principle that no citizen shall receive "discriminatory treatment" because their color or sex is different.

School Committee Chairman Haskell C. Freedman is advocating a "No" vote on this issue.

Freedman declares that judgment on the matter should be left to the School Board which has voted to put equal pay in effect next Sept. 1 for all women teachers beginning with their fourth year of service.

If the people of Newton vote "Yes" on this question, the equal pay system will go into effect the day after election.

A lively five-man battle is being waged for the two Alderman-at-Large seats from Ward 2. Aldermen William M. Glovsky and Winslow C. Aurysen are seeking another term. Former Alderman Alfred R. Guzzi is making a vigorous drive to capture one of their seats. Two other contenders in the field are former Asst. Atty. Gen. Caspar T. Dorfman and Joseph G. Valente, Jr.

Guzzi, who came within a hairbreadth of winning an Aldermanic seat four years ago, has strong backing in the present contest and is regarded as a potent contender.

Glovsky has the endorsement of some of Newton's leading citizens, including ex-Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and School Committee Chairman Haskell C. Freedman.

Hot fights in several sections of the city for election as Ward Aldermen also have helped to arouse public interest in next Tuesday's election.

A stiff contest is being waged in Ward 7 where Alderman Paul S. Rich is retiring from office.

Opponents in the struggle to succeed Rich are John Umina, Jr., well known real estate and insurance broker, and William Carmen, chairman of the Newton Housing Authority. Both have made energetic campaigns.

Ward 6 Scene Of Hot Campaigning

Ward 6 is the scene of another rugged clash, with Ward Alderman Charles E. Holly being challenged by Ernest F. Dietz and Attorney Melvin Ravach. Dietz has been endorsed for the post by the Newton Civic Association. Ravach has blasted complacency in Newton.

Alderman William H. Prentice In Ward 5

In Ward 4, where Alderman Warren A. Sutherland is retiring from office, the contestants for his seat are John L. Vaccaro and Allard M. Valentine. Both Vaccaro and Valentine, incidentally, live on Islington road. Vaccaro is vice president of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Jerrold Wise is challenging Alderman Theodore T. Mann in another interesting fight in Ward 8.

In Ward 2, Alderman George L. Hicks is opposed by Thomas H. Browne.

Aldermen Joseph G. Bradley in Ward 1 and Charles H. Cosgrove in Ward 3 are the only Ward Aldermen unopposed for reelection and certain of getting another term at City Hall.

Sharp campaigning has developed in the contest for the two Alderman-at-Large seats from Ward 6. Attorney Albert R. Mezooff is standing for election against Alderman Charles F. Hovey and William P. Ripley.

Mezooff has charged that Hovey was absent from 48 out of the 90 meetings of the Aldermanic Board from the years 1957 through 1960. He has declared that Hovey's absenteeism has continued this year.

J. Howard Snow of 9 Crofton rd. is running against Alderman Franklin N. Flaschner and Harry L. Walen in the Ward 5 Alderman-at-Large race.

Richard P. Brennan of 6 Sharon ave. is standing against Alderman Harry H. Ham, Jr., and Earle D. Wood in a fight to serve as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4.

Four Contests Settled For School Board

Four contests will be settled Tuesday for places on the School Committee.

Joseph M. McDonnell of 9 Princeton st., is challenging Committeeman Francis P. Frazier for election as the School Board member from Ward 1.

Walter L. Mueller of 137 Lowell ave., is opposing Committeewoman Genevieve R. Onley for the School Committee post from Ward 2.

Committeewoman Grace C. Whitmore is being opposed by Walter E. Lockwood of 48 Clark rd. for election as School Committeeman from Ward 3.

Bertram Prombom of 4 Placid rd. is seeking to unseat Spencer F. Deming as the School Committeeman from Ward 6.

School Committee Chairman Haskell C. Freedman in Ward 6, Committeeman Hugh M. Tomb in Ward 7, Manuel Beckwith in Ward 4 and Edwin Hawkrig in Ward 5 are unopposed for reelection to the School Board.

Some surprises and upsets may develop when the returns are counted next Tuesday night, especially in the Aldermanic elections.

Richard Brennan Spurned Newton Civic Assn. Invite

Richard P. Brennan declined to be considered by the Newton Civic Association for its endorsement for election as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4.

Brennan turned down an invitation to appear before the association's directors for questioning and an interview when they were considering candidates for endorsement.

This was revealed by Brennan and was confirmed by directors of the civic association.

Brennan blasted the association as a "self-electing and self-perpetuating" group and was asserted that it does not reflect the views of the people of Newton.

He was invited to appear before the association directors to be interviewed on Oct. 25.

On Oct. 23, two days before his scheduled appearance, he sent the following sharply worded letter to the association directors:

"I regret to state that, after prolonged consideration, I have found several pointed reasons for rejecting your invitation to appear before the Newton Civic Association on Oct. 25, 1961. I would like to take this opportunity to make these reasons known to the association and to the public.

"1. The Newton Civic Association is a self-electing and self-perpetuating group with 45 directors who are in no sense representative of a city with a population exceeding the 90,000 mark.

Wheaton's steadily increasing enrollment this year passed 800. The liberal arts college is one of the oldest institutions for the education of women in the country.

"2. The Newton Civic Association seems to become activated only around election time. At any other time the Association displays an apathy which might cause any citizen to question the civic interest of its members.

"3. The Newton Civic Association does not allow to candidates the time they need to adequately express their views on city planning, zoning, renewal programs, etc.

"4. The Newton Civic Association, I maintain, a political non-entity. A great many citizens have never heard of the organization and many of those who have are uninformed as to its purpose."

The continuing success of Newton's Halloween program, Mayor Gibbs asserted, "is a tribute to all those parents who contributed so much of their time and effort, particularly Dr. Sylvester who once again served as general chairman.

"We must also give credit to the program chairman, Mrs. Dorothy H. Garon and to recreation supervisor, James E. Murphy.

"The united effort of our citizens working with the recreation department headed by Commissioner Johnson and the Newton Chamber of Commerce given our young people a safe night to remember," the mayor said.

Commissioner Johnson asserted "Newton is indeed fortunate that the first Halloween party of our third decade has been so successful. This is the 21st consecutive Halloween party under the auspices of the Newton Recreation Department, other departments are still other cooperating agencies. It was one of the most outstanding over the years.

"The attendance that our schools reached, the almost 100 per cent level and the supervision, leadership and organizational planning by parents and friends throughout the city has been a source of great pleasure and satisfaction to all who have shared in this program."

General Chairman Sylvester said: "The City of Newton has now celebrated 21 years of successful Halloween parties. Each year, with the increasing number of children in our schools, the parties continue to increase in number and the programs must be tailored to meet the needs of the individual villages."

"Halloween continues to be a wondrous time in the lives of our children. To the High School student this is the first big dance of the season, and to the grade school children, a tremendous masquerade for which costumes had been planned for months."

Melvin Ravech Battling For Ward 6 Aldermanic Post

Attorney Melvin Ravech was campaigning at top speed this week for election as Ward Alderman from Ward 6.

In a series of speeches this week Ravech called for the establishment of a blue-ribbon Planning Board comprised of civic leaders and technical experts to review any proposal for rezoning in Newton.

"In their campaign statements, my opponents have spoken about preserving the character of Newton," Ravech declared.

"I agree that our fine city should be preserved. Unlike my opponents, I do not propose to preserve Newton by smothering it under the moth balls of the status quo," he asserted.

"We do not act with either wisdom or justice," said Ravech, "when we automatically reject every proposal to bring new tax revenues to our city to reduce the burden we now bear."

Ravech warned that Newton no longer has vast land areas available for either residential or commercial growth, and called for foresighted planning to insure optimum use of the city's remaining acreage.

"A blue-ribbon planning board headed by distinguished citizens would insure that every suggested new rezoning project would be reviewed dispassionately and objectively with due regard for the comfort, convenience and safety of the residents in the area as well as for the general welfare of Newton," he continued.

"Newton is a metropolitan community with the serious problems of traffic congestion, outmoded residential and commercial sections and inefficient use of land that faces most major communities today," Ravech stated.

"Expert, foresighted and full-time planning is the only solution if Newton is to be preserved as a pleasant and progressive city in which to live," he said.

The prominent Newton trial lawyer said that "change merely for the sake of change should be rejected by all enlightened citizens."

He said that as Alderman for Ward 6 he would be committed to programs providing "change based on progress, change based on purpose and change based on long-range planning."

"We need the type of dynamic leadership capable of combining cautious control over proposed projects with clear, courageous thinking to bring new sources of revenue to the city; dedicated leadership committed to serving the

How Would You Bid And Play This Hand?

North East South West
1NT 2S 3S Pass
3NT All Pass Lead is spade jack.

This was a tremendous pass on South's part. Some might have carried on to a slam in hearts, East's lead of the spade jack drew a small club from dummy, while West puts up the king to force North's ace. Declarer then decided that this must show at most only two spades, or West would have played a come-on card. Declarer decided to test the club suit first; and when East showed out, he put up the queen to West's king of clubs. West returned his spade 9 to declarer's queen. Then declarer ran four diamonds discarding a club, and then cashed the top three hearts as East showed out. This declarer had an absolute count on East's hand. West could have had no more than two spades. So, West was allowed to take the fourth heart and had to lead his club into dummy's ace-ten. Top score on this hand is eleven tricks.

11,029 Pints of Blood Donated By Bay Staters

Men and women in thirty-four Central Massachusetts communities, including Blackstone Valley towns, working jointly toward the common goal of an emergency blood supply, donated 11,029 pints of blood to the Red Cross in the fiscal year ending June 30. Nearly 10,000 pints of this total were distributed on request without charge for the use of patients in the 16 local hospitals served by the Worcester Chapter program, and the remainder was processed into needed blood fractions—gamma globulin, serum albumin, and fibrinogen.

Miss Janet L. Asselin, director of the Worcester Chapter program, issuing the recently completed report, observed "Countless lives were saved because this blood was at hand when needed." The six hospitals in Worcester, which also serve large numbers of patients from county towns, used by far the largest amount of blood, as follows: City Hospital, 1915 pints; St. Vincent, 1702; The Memorial, 1668; Hahnemann, 1169; Fairlawn, 601, and Doctor's, 171. Among the community hospitals, Southbridge used 355; Holden District, 143; Milford, 288; Webster District, 218.

Distribution to three tuberculosis facilities was: Rutland Veterans' Administration Hospital, 539; Rutland State, 19; Worcester County Sanatorium, 81; and to three mental hospitals, Worcester State, 84; Grafton State, 42; and Westboro State, 84. Patients from the Worcester Chapter area also received 529 pints of blood while in Boston hospitals, and 220 in other hospitals outside this Chapter.

PRESIDES — Mrs. David J. Mintz, of Newton, president of Aid to Muscular Disease Research, will preside at the annual fall meeting to be held today at 12:30 at Temple Kehilath Israel, Brookline.

Custodians, Secretaries, Seek Raises

The Newton School Committee has been requested for pay increases by the Newton Educational Secretaries Association and the Building Service Employees Union, AFL-CIO.

The secretaries requested that effective Sept. 1, 1962, an additional $100 adjustment be paid to all 10-month secretaries, bringing the maximum to $2875, plus an annual increase of $100. The proposal for 12-month secretaries of $150 would bring the maximum to $4200 plus an annual increment of $100.

An across-the-board pay increase of $217.60 to all building service personnel was requested by the custodians' union. They also asked a $200 maximum increase on all maximum salaries for all building service male personnel and a $50 increase on annual increment raising it from $150 to $200. A maximum salary for matrons at $4475 also was proposed.

Plant Golden Blooms To Mark 50th Birthday

In helping mark a trail of yellow flowers throughout the nation in observance of the "Golden Anniversary Year" in 1962, Newton Girl Scouts recently planted yellow roses, tulips and chrysanthemums around the flag pole at city hall.

Members of Troop No. 89 took part in the ceremony which was in charge of Mrs. Robert Muldoon, troop leader, and attended by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs. The golden blooms will be seen throughout the city next spring.

Girl Scouts In Overnight Roundup Training Session

Nineteen senior Girl Scouts from Newton and Waltham spent Friday and Saturday in a unique overnight camp training session held at Camp Mary Day in Weston. It marked the second such session for applicants for the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup to be held next July at Button Bay State Park in Vermont.

The scouts were formed into three patrols under the direction of three adult trainers, Mrs. Janis Kalnajs, Mrs. Samuel Handler and Mrs. Gerald Hine. Various skills were practiced in the two day session with the girls cooking their meals on charcoal stoves, some meals being prepared after dark with lanterns and flash-

Holly Only Incumbent To Miss Re-Election

'Yes' Referenda Victories Won on Paper-Thin Margins

Newton voters recorded themselves in favor of the fluoridation of their water system in Tuesday's municipal election and at the same time ordered equal pay for men and women teachers in the public school system.

The margin of difference on both referenda was extremely small.

The vote on the hotly disputed fluoridation issue was 12,522 for fluoridation and 11,282 against it.

Mayor Blasts Aldermen On Traffic Board Veto

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs today sharply criticized the action of the Board of Aldermen Monday night in defeating by a 14-7 vote his recommendation for the creation of a three-member City Traffic Commission.

The Mayor, who was both disturbed and disappointed by the rejection of his proposal, blasted it in strong language as "a very unwise move."

He characterized the attitude of a majority of the members of the Aldermanic Board as "without doubt the most provincial thinking I have seen exhibited."

Gibbs pointed out that the establishment of a Traffic Commission in Newton has been recommended for five years by the Massachusetts Safety Council.

He expressed the conviction that the step would make possible a better handling of the city's traffic problems.

The Mayor said that at the present time officials dealing with traffic problems are overworked and overburdened.

Burns Confirmed As Commissioner Of Buildings

Mayor Gibbs' appointment of Vincent D. Burns of Stoughton as Newton's next Public Building Commissioner, was confirmed by the members of the Board of Aldermen Monday night.

Burns, who presently is employed as manager of operations of the $20 million North Shore Shopping Centre, will assume his duties as Building Commissioner Jan. 1. He is to succeed acting Commissioner Arthur Campbell who will retire on pension. Burns is a civil engineer.

Tigers Host Waltham Saturday; Newton South Visits Needham

Newton High's football team entertains its old rival, Waltham High, at Dickinson Stadium Saturday afternoon in a Veterans' Day clash, while Newton South High visits the lair of the Needham Rockets at Memorial Field.

Kickoff time in each instance is 1:30 p.m.

Of the four teams involved, only Newton South was victorious last Saturday. South added to Stoughton's woes with a 28 to 0 win in a Class B game at Stoughton High field; Newton North was walloped 44 to 22 by Beverly; Waltham was edged by Brockton 16 to 14, and Needham was surprised 28 to 6 by a tough Milton team.

Both the Newton vs Waltham and Newton South vs Needham games shape up as well-balanced matches on paper.

Newton won one, lost five and tied one, while Waltham won two, lost three and also had one tie. Needham has won four and lost three, while Newton South won three and lost two.

Newton South was held scoreless in the first period at Stoughton but then Bob Primack started the scoring midway in the second quarter on a four yard carry. Then a 75-yard pass from Bob Kenney to Ken Anderson made it 15-0 at halftime.

The third TD came in the third period when Jim Tsumus went 70 yards on an off tackle play and in the fourth period Mal White went over from the Stoughton two for the fourth.

Building Is Dedicated At Mount Ida Junior College

A new $100,000 classroom building was dedicated recently at Mount Ida Junior College at ceremonies held in conjunction with "Back To College" Day at the Newton Centre school.

The building, to be known as Ricker Hall, is named in honor of Esther W. Ricker, former head of Mount Ida's secretarial department and a member of the faculty from 1940 to 1960.

Upon completion, the building will house the college's typewriting and shorthand classes, retailing classes, aviation laboratory, a teachers' lounge and a new and larger college bookstore. First classes were conducted in Ricker Hall this week.

On hand for the dedicatory ceremony were Mrs. Ricker, Dr. F. Roy Carlson, president of Mount Ida; Dr. William Carlson, president emeritus, and Rev. Samuel M. Lindsay, trustee of the college and minister of the Royal Poinciana Chapel, Palm Beach, Florida.

Women Voters Study Problems

City's Library System to Be Subject of Unit Discussions

The Newton League of Women Voters will hold discussion units during the week of November 13, the subject to be "The Newton Libraries — Should We Take a Giant Step?"

The "giant step" referred to in the title of the meetings will concern what measures, if any, should be taken to improve Newton's library system. Last year's study and evaluation of the libraries revealed problems in the areas of salaries, buildings, and school libraries. Discussion this year will center on these areas of concern in an attempt to reach conclusions.

League members and other interested women in the community have had an opportunity to learn about the status of Newton's library at a panel discussion which was held on October 9.

In addition, a tour of the main library and the children's library was made by League members on November 8. At that time a film on library practices in Massachusetts was shown to acquaint members with the situation in comparative communities.

Planning for these meetings was done by the following committee: Mrs. Melvin Gordon, chairman, Mrs. Nathan Freedman, vice-chairman, Mrs. Richard Feinberg, Mrs. Donald Daniels, Mrs. Edward Levy, Mrs. John Silverman, Mrs. Thomas Gephart, Mrs. Hanon White, Mrs. Melvin Shoul, Mrs. Daniel Carmen, Mrs. Gerald Peretsman, and Mrs. Bernard Kaplan.

League members and interested women will meet at 7:30 p.m. on November 13 at the Newton School Department building on the North side of the city, according to Dr. Charles E. Brown.

The Newton Superintendent of Schools told a PTA Council meeting last Thursday at the Old Pierce School on Chestnut street, West Newton, that eventually Building I at the high school will be abandoned, but all remain in use until the new structure is completed.

Dr. Brown advised the PTA Council that a monthly report from the School Committee to the community will make its first appearance in January. The purpose, he said, was to foster better communication between the community and the schools.

The school curriculum no longer can be a static thing, Dr. Brown reported. Newton is taking advantage of new programs and new ideas in teaching.

Innovations are not being tried in all the schools at the same time he said, but they include teaching machines, team teaching, programs for attracting older women into the teaching of elementary school.

with Newton's traffic headaches are "working haphazardly and often at cross-purposes."

"We act like a chameleon, changing our rules and regulations without rhyme or reason," Gibbs asserted. "One has only to inspect the records to prove this point."

"Are we so blind and so complacent that we refuse to adopt the major recommendation of the outstanding groups in the field of traffic?" Gibbs demanded. "They have no axe to grind except to point the way to efficient operations in the entire field of traffic safety."

Under the plan submitted to the Aldermen by Mayor Gibbs, the proposed new Traffic Commission would have been comprised of the police chief, the fire chief and the director of public works. They would have had complete jurisdiction over traffic regulations.

The seven Aldermen who supported Gibbs' recommendation were: Melvin J. Dangel, Franklin N. Flasehner, William M. Glosky, Theodore D. Mann, John P. McCarthy, Carleton P. Merrill and Warren A. Sutherland.

The 14 who opposed it were Winslow C. Auryansen, Adelaide B. Ball, Joseph G. Bradley, Charles H. Cosgrove, Harry H. Ham, Jr., George L. Hicks, William E. Hopkins, Charles F. Hovey, Charles H. Hovey, Charles H. Morang, John P. Nixon, William H. Prentice, William P. Riley, Harry L. Walen, and Earle D. Wood. Three members were absent from the session.

Mayor Gibbs made it plain that he does not intend to abandon his fight for the creation of a Traffic Commission. He indicated in the near future he would resubmit the proposal in a new form.

school and science projects which allow high schoolers to study in the laboratories of local research companies.

Of the 200 tested in the new, early admission policy for kindergarten, Dr. Brown reported, 75 youngsters were admitted and are progressing satisfactorily.

He also announced the Newton Jr. College will occupy the Newtonville Woman's Club on Feb. 1 if present plans materialize. It was purchased to add lunchroom, office space and lecture hall facilities to the Junior College, which soon should be eligible for accreditation.

Finding college places for all youngsters who want them will become a major problem in the near future, the superintendent said. For the past two years Newton has sent guidance counselors out west to develop contacts with first-rate western colleges.

Jerome Grossman presided at the meeting.

Reports were given on two programs tried for the first time this past summer. Donald L. March, who directed the Creative Arts Workshop, outlined the need for the creative student to be given opportunities to develop his talents in an age oriented to science and mathematics. It was suggested that a writers' workshop be added to the drama, art, dance and music sections of the program.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

McLaughlin Ready To Start Campaign for Governorship

Now that the municipal elections are over, behind-the-scenes activity will be stepped up by both Democratic and Republican politicians who hope to attain places next year on the rival State tickets.

Lieutenant Governor Edward M. McLaughlin, Jr., is ready to strike out for the Democratic nomination for Governor. While he will delay any public announcement until early next year, McLaughlin will shortly begin lining up delegates to the Democratic State Convention.

Supporters of Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley already are quietly contacting and buttonholing delegates to let them know there is a strong possibility Riley will make the gubernatorial run.

Several fights may be brewing within the Republican party as well as on the Democratic side of the fence.

Congressman Laurence Curtis has quietly informed GOP leaders that he will be a candidate for state-wide office, probably the U. S. Senate, if a congressional redistricting law is enacted which freezes him out and leaves him no opening to run for reelection to the national House.

Curtis has let it be known that he has no thought whatever of retiring from public life at the close of his present term.

That might lead to a head-on clash between Curtis and George Lodge, son of former UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, for the Republican nomination of the U. S. Senate.

Curtis is holding his plans in abeyance until he sees what is done about establishing new congressional districts. He would prefer to stand for another term in Congress if there is any opportunity for him to do so.

Some political observers foresee a possible battle developing between former U. S. Attorney Elliot L. Richardson and Finance Commission Chairman Edward W. Brooke for the GOP endorsement for Attorney General. Brooke was the Republican nominee last year for Secretary of State.

The man who probably would be the greatest asset to the Republican State ticket — Representative Francis W. Perry of Duxbury who triggered the waterways investigation — is standing back and awaiting developments. If Governor Volpe were to change his mind and run for the U. S. Senate, Perry would be a logical GOP choice for the Governorship.

But it will be the Democrats who will do most of the fighting, attract most of the attention and draw most of the headlines.

With Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., moving out to run for the U. S. Senate, a scramble is certain for the Democratic endorsement for Attorney General.

A free-for-all battle also is inevitable for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor, with McLaughlin stepping up to make his big bid for the Governorship.

The biggest unanswered question in the Democratic party is whether Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy will engage in a test of strength with Attorney General McCormack in a fight for the Democratic Senate nomination.

Democratic Committee

Some time in the fairly near future two members of the Democratic State Committee who have been appointed to federal positions by President Kennedy will resign from the Democratic organization because of the Hatch Act.

When they do, a special meeting of the State Committee will be convened to select the two new committee members who will fill their places. It will not be surprising if

Claflin Book Fair Nov. 13 Through 17th

Mrs. Henry Lambert, of Newtonville, has announced "Reading Is Fun" will be the theme of the Claflin school Book Fair, November 13 to 17. There will be over 300 books for children of all ages, pre-school through teen-age. A special feature of this year's Book Fair will be an excellent selection of children's records and magazines. All the proceeds will be added to the fund for purchasing books for the Claflin School Library.

Books will go on sale Monday, November 13, at Claflin School, and will be sold during school hours through Friday, November 17. The book store will also be open before and during the first P.T.A. meeting, Monday, November 13. All books will be available for delivery two weeks after the sale.

Mrs. Lambert is being assisted by her co-chairman Mrs. Samuel Clayman, and Mrs. Irving Finsen, Claflin Library Chairman. Come and order some books for the children on your holiday shopping list.

Displays Marl Library Week Here Nov. 12-18

The Newton Free Library today announced plans to join in the 1961 celebration of National Children's Book Week which will be held all over the United States Nov. 12-18.

The Boys' and Girls' Library at 126 Vernon St., Newton Corner, will feature a display of outstanding children's books published this year as well as new editions of children's classics. It is open Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and Saturday from 9 to 12 and from 1 to 6 p. m.

The 10 branch libraries will feature selections from the many new copies of outstanding books added this year. Posters and streamers will mark the colorful displays to which all are invited.

a stormy row erupts at that session because several members of the Democratic State Committee are becoming increasingly incensed that it is being made a do-nothing organization.

Nine months have elapsed since the official Democratic State organization has even held a meeting. The most recent session was held last February to elect committee vice chairmen.

Why the committee members bother to choose vice chairmen or new members is something of a mystery since they don't do anything after they're chosen.

It must be somewhat disillusioning for politically ambitious young men or women to run for the Democratic State Committee, expand their time and effort to get elected and then find that all they have obtained is an empty title and a seat on a political body which rarely even holds a meeting, much less does anything.

Republican State Committee Chairman Philip K. Allen is frequently the center of controversy and occasionally draws hostile political fire. At least, however, his organization tries to do something.

Members of the Democratic State Committee privately admit their organization is a "joke" and plays no real part in the political life of the Commonwealth.

TD. Two conversion points came on a rush and one by place kick.

Newton High was the underdog going into the game against once-beaten Beverly, but surprised every one including Beverly by scoring 22 points.

The game broke wide open at the very outset when Beverly scored three touchdowns in the very first four minutes of the first period. The standout of the game was Beverly's halfback Dave Manuel who carried seven times but on five occasions ended up in Newton's end zone.

Beverly had allowed only two touchdowns in its previous six games, but the Newton Tigers scored three times and rolled up 12 first downs against 9 as they rushed for 127 yards and gained 64 via the air lanes.

Newton's standout was senior quarterback Kenny Smith who passed for one TD, scored another and set up the third. A fumble at Beverly's 41 midway in the second period led to Newton's first TD. Six plays later Kenny Smith passed 15 yards to end Carl Regan, and then passed to Dennis Maxwell for the extra points.

In the second half the Tigers scored again after moving 60 yards in 10 plays. Quarterback Smith went 32 on an option to the Beverly 12 and fullback Bob Leeland went over from the one. In the last quarter Newton again moved 55 yards in 10 plays and Smith moved it over from the one.

That ended Newton's scoring but Beverly added two more TDs before the final gun banged. In all, Beverly gained some 400 yards by rushing, half of it by Co-capt. Walt Grant who carried only 11 times.

Woman's Club To Jointly Sponsor Kiddies' Theatre

The Newton Centre Woman's Club in a dramatic new step this week announced the joint sponsorship of the Children's Theatre, a research and teaching project, with Tufts University.

Club officials stated that the step was taken to bring creative dramatics for children to Newton under the direct guidance of an outstanding school working in this field.

Tufts University has a long established record in the field of drama. Last year it initiated a completely new project, the Creative Dramatics Program, under the direction of Mrs. Harrison Gass, of Newton.

Mrs. Gass is currently conducting her creative dramatics activities at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 4:00 to 5:30 o'clock for youngsters from the ages of 8 to 14.

A scholarship in creative dramatics to a worthy child, in the name of the Woman's Club, is being provided by Tufts University Theatre.

Bogus Solicitor Seeks Funds For Newton Hospital

Residents of this city and surrounding areas were cautioned today that no door-to-door fund drive is being conducted by the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

A young lady calling herself "Miss Brown" called recently at the home of an Auburndale woman and requested funds for the hospital. The solicitor named as a relative a Wellesley resident. When contacted by hospital authorities, the Wellesley woman said she had no relative by that name.

Newton-Wellesley Hospital officials reminded local residents that the institution is a Red Feather Agency participating in the United Fund.

All door-to-door soliciting for the hospital is handled by United Fund volunteers who carry proper identification.

Persons visited at home solely for a contribution to the hospital should call local police or the hospital directly.

"Yes" Wins on Referenda

Alderman Charles F. Hovey, whose record of absenteeism from Aldermanic meetings was blasted by Attorney Albert R. Mezzoff in the recent campaign, emerged as the high vote-getter in the three-man race for two places as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 6.

Hovey polled 12,796 votes, Alderman William P. Ripley 12,551 and Mezzoff 7352.

Aldermen Harry H. Ham, Jr., and Earle D. Wood won reelection as Aldermen-at-Large from Ward 4 over Richard P. Brennan by decisive margins.

Aldermen Franklin N. Flachsenner and Harry L. Walen were reelected as Aldermen-at-Large from Ward 5. Each polled approximately double the vote of J. Howard Snow, their challenger.

Aldermen-at-Large Carleton P. Merrill and Adelaide B. Ball from Ward 1, Melvin J. Dangel and John P. Nixon from Ward 3, John P. McCarthy and William E. Hopkins from Ward 7; and Wendell R. Bauckman and Charles H. Morang from Ward 8 all were unopposed for reelection.

Four School Board Members Top Opponents

The four School Committee members who were challenged by opponents almost won reelection easily.

Committeeman Francis P. Frazier bested Joseph M. McDonnell by an 11-6 margin.

Committeewoman Genevieve R. Onoley won by a 10-6 margin over Walter L. Mueller.

In the battle of candidates with famous Newton names, Committeewoman Grace C. Whitmore topped Walter E. Lockwood 2-1.

Committeeman Spencer F. Deming defeated Bertram Promboin by a more than 2-1 margin.

School Committee Chairman Haskell C. Freedman from Ward 6, Committeemen Manuel Beckwith from Ward 4, Edwin Hawkrige from Ward 5 and Hugh M. Tomb from Ward 7 were unopposed for reelection.

Alderman George L. Hicks defeated Thomas H. Browne in a fight for Ward Alderman from Ward 2. Alderman William H. Prentice won handily over Victor M. Kumin in Ward 5. Alderman Theodore D. Mann rolled up a 2-1 victory over Jerold Wise.

Ward Aldermen Joseph G. Bradley in Ward 1, and Charles H. Cosgrove in Ward 3 were unopposed for reelection.

An unusual aspect of the "equal pay" vote is that while the voters of Newton reelected all eight School Committee members, they rejected their advice on the equal pay referendum.

As a result of the 268-vote margin by which the referendum was approved, equal pay is now in effect for men and women teachers in the Newton public school system.

The School Board voted several weeks ago to put a modified plan into effect next Sept. 1, under which women teachers would get the same pay as men in their fourth year of service.

The effect of Tuesday's vote is that the equal pay provisions will go into effect immediately instead of next September and that they will apply to all women teachers, not merely those with three or more years of service.

Take At Least Six Months To Fluoride

Meanwhile, Mayor Gibbs and Water Commissioner Mark F. Croker reported that it will be at least six months before the necessary arrangements can be completed to fluoridate Newton's water.

They said that equipment will have to be installed at three points where the water lines come into Newton and

Equal Pay Will Boost Tax Rate

The equal pay plan for men and women teachers, which Newton voters approved by a narrow margin in Tuesday's election, will boost next year's tax rate.

Superintendent of Schools Charles E. Brown estimated that the equal pay vote will cost the school department an additional $113,480 next year.

Brown said he is waiting for legal advice as to when the equal pay arrangement becomes effective. If it went into effect yesterday, as some legal authorities maintain, it will cost $13,000 for the balance of this year.

It will be placed under ground in at least two locations.

Croker will begin conferences next week with consulting experts on the steps the city must take.

It is estimated that it will cost in the vicinity of $100,000 to erect the necessary structures and install the equipment necessary for the fluoridation of the water supply.

The three locations at which equipment will be installed are the Commonwealth avenue pumping station, West Newton Square and the junction of Washington and Church streets.

NEW AID PROGRAM—Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association representatives discuss an ambitious new program that begins next Tuesday. Left to right, Mrs. John M. Whittaker, Wellesley, Robert C. Boardman, assistant hospital director; and Mrs. Eaton Webber, of Newton, plan series of meetings to better acquaint members with hospital activities.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By JANET SHAPIRO

The final election of Sophomore Class officers was held recently. Those elected were: James Hoover, president; David Bliss, vice-president; Beverly Marr, secretary; Vicki Oppen, treasurer, and Lisa Lavey and Anne Moore, Associate Council Representatives.

The Junior Class is sponsoring a work day scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 18. On that day, the juniors will go out into the city of Newton and do any kind of jobs people wish to have done. The goal this year is to raise $1,000. All money earned will be contributed to the New England Home for Little Wanderers.

The work day will begin at 9 a.m. and will end at 3 p.m. In the evening there will be an informal supper and dance for those who participate.

The officers of the Junior Class Committee are: Tom Machein, Chairman; Diane Kagan, assistant chairman; Chester Black, head of Publicity Committee; Jim Lally, head of Labor Committee; Bob Alter, head of Job Committee; Diane Sones, head of Telephone Committee; and Richie Steller, head of Transportation Committee.

A special reading clinic is being offered to students of Newton Technical High School for the first time this fall. The program is part of the English curriculum which gives the boys an opportunity to improve themselves in their reading speed and comprehension.

Beginning this fall, Barry House, one of the six houses composing Newton High School, will allow all Barry House students with a fourth period class in Barry House to eat in its commons room. Milk will be provided for those who wish to buy it.

Barry House had an assembly last Thursday featuring Anthony Saletan, a music consultant for the city of Newton, who sang many of the songs he learned during a two-year leave of absence.

Among the many diversified activities in Beals House are three tutorials lead by faculty members. Two of these groups are discussing the image of the American in foreign countries while the other is discussing the social aspect of man beginning with the works of Plato.

Daily, under the direction of the Beals House Civics Committee, two or three boys and girls volunteer to go to the settlement house in the North End of Boston where they aid in supervising the children for two hours at a time.

Emerson PTA Book Fair

The Emerson PTA in Newton Upper Falls has announced the hours for the three days when its annual book fair will be held.

Boston artist Arthur Polonsky will be present to do some sketching. Books and records will be delivered in time for holiday gifts.

A cake in the form of a book, made and decorated by Mrs. D. Gasbarri, will be raffled off Monday night. The book fair committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. G. Michaels consists of: Mrs. E. M. Kaitz, Mrs. H. Lodge, Mrs. J. Holo, Mrs. K. Vlass, Mrs. J. H. Wilkins, Mrs. R. Colton, Mrs. I. Adams, Mrs. I. A. Rosenthal, Mrs. D. N. Kan, Mrs. A. Filosa, Mrs. C. Donnelly, Mrs. M. Adelman, and Mrs. W. Arduino.

VINCENT deGREGORIS

Rev. Vincent deGregoris, of Newton Centre, has been appointed to teach and direct the new program of religious drama recently established at the Andover Newton Theological School at Newton Centre. Rev. deGregoris joined the school staff in 1957.

Mr. deGregoris was born in Philadelphia. He graduated from Eastern Baptist College in that city, and was a cum laude graduate of Andover Newton Theological School, receiving both a B.D. and S.T.M. degree, in 1954. He is married to the former Charlotte Spitzer of College Park, Maryland, who also participates in his religious drama interests and activities. They have two children, Yolanda and Jonathan.

Messiah Church Women's "Coffee"

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, will hear an illustrated travel talk by Miss Lulona Barker at a coffee hour Monday, November 13 at 1:15 p.m. at the parish house. Members are urged to come at 10 a.m. to work for the Christmas sale on December 9.

If Water Tastes Different Don't Blame Fluorides

If you think your water tastes different since Tuesday's vote in favor of fluoridating the Newton water supply, it's all in your imagination.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Water Commissioner Mark F. Croker report that it will be at least six months before the necessary equipment has been purchased and installed for the fluoridation of the water supply.

It will cost the city about $100,000 to buy and install the equipment.

Woman's Club Annual Guest Day, Nov. 15

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands is holding its annual Guest Day on Wednesday, Nov. 15 in the Congregational Church Parish House. Hostesses for the dessert and social hour at 1 p.m. are Mrs. Henry W. Nelson, Mrs. Martin P. Luthy and Mrs. Arthur E. Marden.

The program will include music by Miss Henrietta McKee and a talk by Richard D. Elson.

Miss McKee is one of the Club Scholarship winners. Acclaimed "Woman of the Year" at Northeastern University, this year she won the New England competitive scholarship to study at famous Chatham Hall Summer Opera. She also won a National Scholarship at the New England Conservatory of Music.

Mr. Elson is Editor of "Confidential Chat", the popular Woman's Feature page of the Boston Globe. In his talk titled "A Man in a Woman's Whirl" he tells how it feels to receive 2,000 letters a month from women who think he is a She.

Mrs. Albert S. Genaske, Chairman of the Veterans Service Committee will be at this meeting to receive the filled Veterans Christmas Bags. Mrs. J. Arthur Samuelson and her Art Committee will have an interesting Art Corner.

Hospital Aid Association Opens New Project Tuesday

A better understanding of their community hospital lies behind an ambitious program announced today by the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association.

Mrs. Eaton Webber, of Newton, and Mrs. John M. Whittaker, of Wellesley, chairmen of the membership committee, stated that all 1,800 members of the association will be invited to future meetings of the board of directors of the association.

Members from Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls, and Auburndale have been asked to the first meeting to be held on November 14th. In addition to hearing committee reports on the widespread functions of the association, one of the largest such groups in New England, the members will also hear an outstanding speaker discuss some phases of community hospital operation.

The December 12th meeting will be open to members from Wellesley Hills. In the following months, invitations will be sent to members in other Newton villages.

The aid association recently completed a successful Party Day program, proceeds of which will finance a piped oxygen system in a medical surgical patient area of the hospital. Over the years, the association has made extensive contributions to the hospital both in staffing that would otherwise require paid personnel and in raising funds for needed equipment and renovations.

Zone Change Allows Industrial Plant Here

An area in the rear of Webster street, West Newton, was enlarged to permit construction of an industrial building when the Newton Board of Aldermen approved Monday night a change in zone for 5,280 square feet. The area was changed from Private residence to Manufacturing District.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM H. STANIEWICZ

Pretty Fall Wedding Unites Miss Nolan - Mr. Staniewicz

One of fall's loveliest brides, the former Miss Katheryn M. Nolan, became the bride recently of William H. Staniewicz at the Sacred Heart Church in Newton Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Nolan of 11 Cousins circle, Newton Centre, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Staniewicz of Dorchester are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Martin McCabe was celebrant of the 11 o'clock nuptial mass at which the Papal Blessing was read. A reception followed at the Chestnut Hill Country Club.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a princess gown of white satin embroidered with pearl encrusted Alencon lace.

Her illusion veil was caught to a becoming headpiece. She carried her prayer book topped with traditional white flowers.

Miss Patricia A. Nolan of Newton Centre was her sister's honor maid. Two other sisters, Miss Nancy Nolan and Miss Linda Nolan, as well as Miss Barbara Morrissey and Miss Mary Conway, all of Newton Centre, were her other attendants.

The best man was Albert Staniewicz, Jr., of Jamaica Plain, brother of the bridegroom. Sharing usher duties were Donald Gabriel, Bradford Vining, both of Dorchester, Terrance Curley of Troy, N. Y., and Hubert King Jr. of Canton.

For her going-away outfit the bride chose a brown suit with matching accessories.

After a trip through New York state, the couple will live in Dorchester.

The bride attended the Sacred Heart High School, Newton, and the Chandler School for Women.

Mr. Staniewicz, an alumnus of Hyde Park High School, is now an electronic draftsman.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar of St. John's Church, Townsend, for the recent marriage of Miss Ruth Crescentia Gillis to William John Carl Pucciarelli.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew P. Gillis of Ashby are the bride's parents. Mr. Pucciarelli is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Scipione of 605 Walnut street, Newtonville.

The Rev. Elais Mealey officiated at the 11 o'clock nuptial ceremony, at which two rings were exchanged. The Belford's Inn in Townsend was the scene of the reception.

Given away by her father, the bride's bouffant-skirted gown of imported silk organza had a fitted bodice made with bertha collar, designed of re-embroidered lace misted with pearls, and short sleeves, entraine.

Her imported French tulle veil was caught to a matching jeweled crown. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with a single orchid.

Their first daughter second child, Rosemary, was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edward Dorr (Mary Louise King) of 282 Kendrick street, Newton, at the Cardinal Cushing Pavilion, Brighton. The baby's brother is Frederick Brian.

TB Group Explains Use Of Drug

A drug used to treat tuberculosis has also been found effective in preventing it, the Norfolk County Tuberculosis and Health Association announced this week.

The Christmas Seal agency reported that isoniazid, a drug used since 1953 to treat TB, had proved 50 per cent effective in preventing the infectious disease in field trials begun four years ago in 16 states, Puerto Rico and Mexico by the United States Public Health Service. These tested included 12,000 persons in the homes of TB patients. Isoniazid is a combination of two ingredients, hydrazide and a form of nicotinic acid, found naturally in some foods. Hydrazide, a synthetic, was originally used as a rocket fuel.

The study, according to the Association, showed that during the year after the source cases of TB were discovered, the rate of new cases among those taking the isoniazid was one in 1000 people. Among those who were not given the drug, the rate was six in 1000 people.

Results of the study are still being analyzed, the Association reported. However, the findings to date indicated to the U. S. Public Health Service that the current annual number of 55,000 new cases of TB and 10,000 deaths can be substantially reduced.

pass 7NT all pass.

Opening lead is the diamond two.

North has a questionable hand to open; if he does open, it is easy to get to slam. However, with the bidding shown, the grand slam can logically be bid. The opening diamond is taken by the ace over East's queen. It happens that hearts break 3-3 so that declarer can make all 13 tricks. If, however, hearts do not break, then declarer has a squeeze on West in spades and diamonds, and can make the thirteenth trick in this way.

WHITINSVILLE - The duplicate Bridge Club of this town will have its regular game on Friday at 8 p.m. at Trinity Church. Last week's game was cancelled because of the tournament in Worcester.

Teachers To Get Yule Gift But Fluoride Fight Not Over

Fluoride Pills Sought By Opponents Of Move

The controversy over the fluoridation of Newton's water supply continued this week despite the passage of the referendum in last week's election when the voters of the city, in effect, ordered that the water be fluoridated.

The Citizens Rights Association of Newton today urged that Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and the Board of Aldermen provide free fluoride pills to all Newton citizens who desire them for their children instead of fluoridating the entire water system.

Mayor Invites Signers To Buck Toll Road Plan

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs today invited all Newton citizens who are opposed to the construction of a toll road through the city to visit his office at City Hall, obtain a petition and help put the issue on the ballot in next year's State election.

Gibbs is participating in a drive for signatures in support of a referendum on the repeal of the law which provides that only a toll road can be built between Boston and the Weston terminus of the turnpike.

The Mayor emphasized that the petitions with whatever signatures are obtained should be returned to his office before Thanksgiving.

Girl Smokers Outnumber Boys At Newton High; Boys Smoke Heavier

More girls than boys in the senior grade at Newton High School were smokers in November, 1959, and slightly more than half of the students smoked cigarettes. However, the boys tended to smoke more heavily.

These facts were reported today by Dr. Eva J. Salber and her associates in the Department of Epidemiology, Harvard School of Public Health, on a survey of the smoking habits of Newton students who in 1959 were enrolled in the city's junior and senior high schools (grades seven through 12 and ages 12 through 17).

Dr. Salber's initial report in a three-year statistical study of the smoking habits of the Newton students is presented in the current issue of The New England Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Salber, senior research associate in Epidemiology at Harvard School of Public Health, is also seeking to learn the influences that lead to the establishment of smoking habits and to relate smoking habits, or non-smoking, to parental smoking habits, fathers' occupation, academic achievement at school, book reading, TV viewing, driving habits and extra-curricular activities. Presently, no attempt is being made to relate smoking to lung cancer.

Statistical information presented by Dr. Salber in her initial report is taken from a questionnaire answered on four days in November, 1959 by 91 per cent (3449) of the boys and 93 per cent (3361) of the girls. Five junior high schools, one high school (there are now two in Newton) and one technical high school were involved.

To standardize her statistics, Dr. Salber defined a non-smoker as a student who had never smoked 10 cigarettes; a discontinued smoker as one who had smoked 10 or more cigarettes in the past but who, at the time of the questionnaire, did not

Women Teachers Will Get Christmas Bonus

Newton's 564 women public school teachers will get a Christmas bonus as a result of the equal pay referendum approved last week by the voters of the city in one of the surprise developments of the municipal election.

It will be paid to the feminine teachers on Dec. 22, the last day before the Christmas vacation and will amount to slightly more than $25 per teacher.

Even though the equal pay schedule technically went into effect on Wednesday of last week — the day after election — the women teachers will get the extra pay for both November and December on Dec. 22.

Superintendent of Schools Charles E. Brown explained that the school payrolls for November already have been made up, preventing the equal pay adjustment until next month.

Under the equal pay arrangement each woman teacher will get a $200-a-year salary increase to bring her equal to the men teachers in the same category.

North-Side School Program Will Be Started Next Year

A proposed program for new school construction on the north side of the city is now in the Mayor's office. This was stated by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs in response to questions put to him at Monday night's School Committee meeting.

Under the long-range plan it is intended to build two new schools, the Horace Mann and the Burr, as well as a four-room annex to the Lincoln-Eliot School and the addition of play rooms to the Carr School.

Mayor Gibbs declared that he is now in the process of appointing an architect to prepare plans for an addition to the school department administration building on Walnut street.

The Mayor said that plans submitted by a previous architect called for a facility that would cost $25,000 more than it was intended to pay.

School Committeewoman Genevieve Onley asked the Mayor if the program had been submitted to the Board of Aldermen and was told that it is "in the Mayor's office."

The discussion of the north-side program was opened by Committeeman Manuel Beck with who asked Superintendent Charles E. Brown for a report on the status of the program voted by the School Board Oct. 9.

Indications are that the program will not be started until next year.

Aldermen To Be Speakers

The Newton Lower Falls Improvement Association will meet next Tuesday evening, November 21, at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's Church, Concord street.

Speakers will be three Newton aldermen, Earle D. Wood, Harry H. Ham, Jr., and Allard M. Valentine.

More than 1000 dignitaries, led by Governor John A. Volpe, and members and guests from throughout New England will attend and participate in the testimonial breakfast to the Newton man. Mr. Gordon's ascendancy to the District No. 1 presidency marks the first time in seven years that a local resident has been elevated to this high office.

ditionary Forces, he was decorated by France, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Holland and Greece for his work in repatriating five and one half million U.N. nationals.

The new dean of Brandeis faculty, a resident of Newton, has lectured widely and is the author of several articles and papers in the welfare field. At present, he is featured in a 15-part weekly television series titled "The Richest People," which reviews various aspects of the government's social security program on WGBH-TV Channel 2, Boston.

Debris Halts Use of NHS Football Field

Footballers at Newton South High will complete their practice for the Thanksgiving Day game at Hingham on the Newton Highlands Playground while officials figure out what to do about the rocks and glass working up through the soil at the new football fields.

Conferences on the situation will be held by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs with school, public works, engineering and recreational officials. Officials said heavy use of the surface before the turf had grown sufficiently plus weather conditions and football cleats allowed the debris to work to the surface on the four football fields.

Women Teachers

George J. Elbaum advised the School Committee Monday night that the equal pay schedule became effective the day after election.

Official Results Certified Tonight

However, Elbaum explained that no money could be paid until after the election results are officially certified at a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen called for tonight (Thursday) by Mayor Gibbs.

School Committee Chairman Haskell C. Freedman reported that sufficient funds will be available in the school department budget to cover the cost of the wage hike for the last seven and a half weeks of this year.

However, the school budget will have to be increased in 1962 to cover the additional expense resulting from the equal pay vote.

A few weeks ago, the School Board voted to put equal pay into effect next Sept. 1 for all women teachers in their fourth or more year of service.

School Board Approves Raise

On Monday night the School Committee members accepted the decision by the voters and voted to put the raise into effect for all teachers as of November 8.

Under the original School Board Plan about 150 younger women teachers with less than four years of service would not have received the $200-a-year differential.

Now all the feminine public school teachers in the city are anticipating the tidy bonus they will get three days before Christmas, thanks to Newton's voters.

Fund Drive

Denver — The first united fund raising drive in the U.S. may have been conducted here in 1877 as a forerunner of the Community Chest plan. It included 23 health and welfare services.

Ted Kennedy To Address St. Monica Guild

Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward T. Kennedy of Suffolk County will address the Guild of St. Monica of Our Lady Help of Christians Church, Washington St., Newton, Monday evening (Nov. 20) at 8:30 o'clock.

All the women of the parish are invited and a coffee hour will follow the meeting to be held in the auditorium.

Christian Science Thanksgiving Special Services

The First Church of Christ Scientist, Newton, announces a special service on Thanksgiving Day. Local members invite the public to attend the service which will be held at 10:45 a. m. in the church edifice. No collection of any kind is taken at this service.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon for the day on the subject of "Thanksgiving" is the Golden Text from Psalm 107: "Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men! And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing."

The original Mayflower was only about 100 feet long.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Battle of the Blue Laws Looming on Beacon Hill

The Battle of the Blue Laws is shaping up as one of the hottest conflicts which will be waged on Beacon Hill during 1962 as a result of the Veterans' Day and Columbus Day fiascos.

Two separate fights will erupt over this touchy and controversial issue.

One will center on an attempt to lift the Blue Laws entirely from holidays or portions of holidays such as Columbus Day and Veterans' Day.

The other will involve a move to rescind, revise or bring up-to-date Sunday Blue Laws which now are being widely flouted and ignored.

Most folks, for example, don't realize that it's against the law to buy a magazine or a package of razor blades in a drug store on a Sunday or that the sale of bread is banned between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

But the bitterest row probably will develop over the issue of whether the laws applying the Sunday Blue Laws to certain holidays should be repealed or retained.

The height of absurdity was reached on Veterans' Day.

Barrooms were allowed to open at 8 a.m. But markets where food is sold were forced to remain closed.

Package liquor stores were permitted to open at 1 p.m. But bakeries had to close between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Between 1 and 4 p.m. it was legal to buy a bottle of whisky but not a loaf of bread.

Harness racing was held at Suffolk Downs on the holiday evening, and night clubs put on their regular floor shows, dancing girls and all. Yet, persons who neglected to buy their meats and groceries the day before the holiday had to find an establishment which was violating the law in order to get the foodstuffs they needed.

Despite the complaints and consternation of people who discovered they couldn't do what they wanted to do on Veterans' Day or Columbus Day, influential groups will battle to retain the Blue Laws for those holidays.

One group will argue in all seriousness that it will be a mark of respect to the memory of Christopher Columbus to prevent the public from going shopping on Oct. 12.

Presumably, they will not have the same objection to standing at a bar or going to the races. That, it seems, is part of the approved celebration of Columbus Day.

The ironic aspect to the situation is that the small pressure groups will make their influence felt on Beacon Hill but that the people who complained so loudly about the restriction imposed on them will do little to make their opinions felt.

The obvious solution to the holiday problem would be to enact the kind of laws for Columbus Day and Veterans' Day that the people want enacted and will obey.

Were you inconvenienced on Veterans' Day? Did you find yourself unable to do the things you wanted to do? Do you consider the application of the Sunday Blue Laws to a day of celebration somewhat ludicrous?

If your answers to those questions are in the affirmative, sit down and write a letter to your legislators in the House of Representatives and the State Senate and possibly to Governor Volpe as well. That's the only way they're going to know how you feel about the matter.

Senate President John E. Powers is preparing to spearhead a fight to relax the Blue Laws on Columbus Day and Veterans' Day.

Powers is disposed to make both days half-holidays, with the Blue Laws in effect until 1 p.m. and lifted after that time.

OUR READERS SAY

Appreciation Given

Nov. 11, 1951

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I should like to express to you the deep appreciation of the Newton Citizen's Committee for Dental Health for the splendid cooperation you and The Newton Graphic gave to our committee.

Your coverage of the subject of fluoridation, I am sure, helped in stimulating the voters to want to express themselves at the polls last Tuesday.

It is most heartening to know that you are willing to give space to the many questions that are of public interest to the citizens of Newton. We feel that your Newton paper is always a source of satisfaction to us.

Newtonites In Key Roles At Hub Conference

Four Newton residents will have key roles in the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Boston's 16th Annual Public Conference, Sunday afternoon, Nov. 19, at Hotel Statler-Hilton.

Atty. Howard Rubin, 50 Congress St., Newton Centre, is general chairman of the Conference, the keynote address for which will be given by David H. Popper, recently named special advisor on disarmament by UN Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

Robert E. Segal, 50 Verdale Rd., Newton Highlands, executive director of the Jewish Community Council, will present a resume of the Council's current program.

M. Jacob Joslow, 100 Fordham Rd., West Newton, Executive Director of the New England office of the American Jewish Congress, and Samuel Katz, 105 Pine Ridge Rd., Waban, Executive Director of the American Jewish Committee, will serve as panelists in a discussion of "The New Super-Patriots and Rabble Rousers."

Rabbi Roland B. Gittelsohn of Temple Israel, President of the Jewish Community Council, will greet the delegates of more than 100 organizations; and I. L. Kenen, editor of "Near East Report," will speak on "Arab-Israel Tensions."

His feeling is logical and reasonable.

When Volpe runs for reelection next autumn, his administration will be judged not only on the record he has made but also on the work of department heads he would have preferred to replace.

Volpe's words, however, have a familiar ring.

Ex-Governor Foster Furcolo argued long and loud on the same subject. Christian A. Herter said much the same thing before Furcolo. So did the late Paul A. Dever and virtually every other man who has served in the Governorship.

Furcolo, Herter and Dever all were somewhat more successful than Volpe in obtaining the resignation of State officials who still had unexpired terms to serve when administrations changed.

In fact, Furcolo demanded the resignation of one high State official and then apparently was so surprised when it was immediately sent to him that he didn't make an appointment to the post for several weeks.

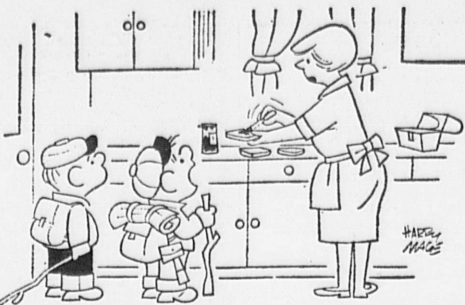

There is a good chance that Volpe will be able to obtain the passage of a bill making the terms of a number of State department heads co-terminus with that of the Governor.

One reason the Democratic Legislature may go along with the idea is that it would result in the ouster of some of Volpe's Republican appointees if he should fail to win reelection next November.

Another is that ex-Governor Furcolo sold the idea pretty convincingly to many Democrats.

Regardless of any political consideration, however, the fact is that a Governor, whether he be Democrat or Republican, should have the power to place in key positions in the State government men who will follow his policies and carry out his program.

That is fundamental if a Governor is to be wholly answerable to the people for what is achieved by his administration.

"What if we get lost? It would be much better to get lost with chicken sandwiches than with jelly sandwiches!"

Rev. Finnegan Speaker at HN Sunday Meeting

300 members of St. Bernard's Holy Name Society in West Newton last Sunday heard Rev. Thomas J. Finnegan, Jr., explain the parent's role in the archdiocesan vocation program.

Father Finnegan, a graduate of Boston College, Boston College Law School, and an Army veteran of four years service, acted as a Military Government Prosecutor immediately after the war in Germany.

Now Vice-Chancellor of the Archdiocese and its Director of Vocations, Father Finnegan told of the efforts of the vocation program through the assistant directors in each deanery. The monthly meeting in the school hall followed the eight o'clock communion mass celebrated by the spiritual director, Rev. Richard Osterman.

President George W. Bresnahan presided at the business meeting following a light breakfast of coffee and doughnuts. Chairman Vincent Madden announced that the annual communion breakfast of the society would be held on Sunday, May 20th, and that attorney George McLaughlin would be the speaker.

Frank Monahan gave a report on the First Friday Nocturnal Adoration which began this month and invited additional members to join this group.

Newton South Wins City '61 Schoolboy Grid Title

The schoolboy football ratings leave little room to dispute the claim that Newton South is the unofficial grid champion of Newton.

The Newton South Lions last Saturday defeated a favored Needham team, 18 to 0, for their fifth consecutive victory on the season. This gave them a record of six wins and one loss and 11th place in Class B.

Newton High, on the other hand, was slammed 20 to 6 last Saturday by Waltham High. This gave Newton a record of one win, one tie and six losses on the season, and 19th place in Class A.

Newton winds up its season in the annual Thanksgiving Day classic at Brookline, while Newton South travels to Hingham for its Turkey Day game.

South's Bob Swett scored two TDs Saturday at Memorial Field, Needham, as his mates blanked a weak Rocket team. The first period was scoreless and then South scored on a 15-yard aerial from John McMasters to Rich Terry.

Newton South scored again in the second period when Swett scored the first of his two touchdowns on a 15 yard end sweep. In the third quarter South scored again when Swett bucked over from the one.

Needham's lone scoring chance came at the outset when South fumbled the opening kickoff. Needham recovered on the South 20 but South's defenses dug in and turned back the Rockets' threat.

arrangements for fluoridating the water system are completed, according to the best estimates available.

Opponents Say Fight Not Over

But leaders of the Newton organization opposing fluoridation served notice that they do not consider that the fight is over.

Officers of the Citizens Rights Association of Newton are Douglas R. Neilson, chairman; Mrs. Matthew Waldstein, co-chairman; Mrs. Lina Brenner, secretary; and David P. Whelan, treasurer.

In their statement they said:

"It appears that a small majority of the voters in Newton have voted in the affirmative on fluoridation of the public water supply. The Citizens Rights Association of Newton does not regard this vote as decisive or conclusive on the subject of fluoridation but merely as an expression of opinion on a highly controversial subject.

"The only way to finally and fairly decide the issue of fluoridation will be on the basis of whether any group of persons — large or small — influential or otherwise — can take away the constitutional right of even one American — of high or low degree.

"There is no question but what fluoridation is mass medication and if permitted to be put in the public drinking water supply, it becomes a dangerous precedent whereby other chemicals or drugs may be added to the water supply for the purpose of treating individuals. This is forced medication to those individuals who do not want it. More than 11,000 persons in Newton have expressed their desire not to have this medication placed in the public water supply.

"The Citizens Rights Association of Newton is founded on three general principles:

"1. The right of the citizen to a water free from any drug or chemical not required for purification.

"2. The right of the citizen to freedom of choice in matters concerning his health, so long as this choice does not infringe the rights of others.

"3. The right of the professional persons, particularly the physician and the dentist, to investigate and to speak freely according to conscience

"We shall continue to work for the fulfillment of these principles and will urge that the mayor and Aldermen approve of a method of providing free fluoride tablets to all citizens who desire them for their children.

"We would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation to those alert citizens of Newton who saw the dangers of imposing fluoridation on the people involuntarily and voted against it, and also to those civic-minded citizens who gave so unselfishly of their time and money to prevent this encroachment on human rights."

the Federal Housing Authority which has granted initial authority to the petitioners, the Chestnut Hill Towers Corp.

Rep. Lorenze F. Muther, executive director of the Newton Taxpayers Association, favored the project. He urged careful consideration, however, before authority is granted for a change in the wording of the zoning ordinance to permit construction of smaller buildings.

This was the first petition for use of the new Residence "F" Zone and there was no position at the hearing.

Architect Graham said the lower story of the garage would be ideal for a fallout shelter. He has designed high rise developments in many parts of the country and said there is a "terrific" demand for luxury apartments.

As detailed by Atty. Angvine, the proposed complex would contain 58 four room apartments, 116 three-room; 173 two-rooms and 177 single room apartments. Rentals would range from $175 to $390 per month.

UTA GRAF

Uta Graf Guest Artist Here At Annual Concert

Uta Graf, declared by Leopold Stokowski to be "One of America's greatest singers," will be the guest artist when the Highland Glee Club of Newton presents its winter concert in the Newton High School auditorium in Newtonville, Tuesday evening, December 12th.

This announcement, made recently by George H. Wight, president of the Highland Glee Club, was enthusiastically received by the singers and friends of the Glee Club, and offers local music lovers an opportunity to hear what Virgil Thomas of the New York Herald-Tribune calls "One of the truest voices we have heard in some time."

Mme. Graf a lyric soprano, has been the leading soprano in many European opera houses.

In America she has been the leading soprano with the San Francisco Opera, Chicago Opera, San Antonio and Kansas City Festivals, and many other festivals. She has appeared in many recitals, concert tours, and broadcasts in the United States, Canada, South America and in Europe. She has also made many recordings.

She has taught voice in Germany, Holland, England, Belgium; has been on the music faculties at Vassar College, Aspen Music School in Colorado, Pennsylvania College for Women, and is at present on the faculty of the New England Conservatory.

ected with a complex of this magnitude is its impact on the public schools," Atty. Angvine said. "These will be luxury apartments. The rents will be so high that very few in the range of parents of school children will be able to afford them, and most people in that range who can afford them prefer houses."

"It is probable that there will never be any children from these apartments attending the Newton public schools. The School Department further reports that children from this area would go to the Bowen School where the average class is 25 and where one room is used as a co-operative nursery. This school could comfortably absorb 30 to 40 additional pupils spread over the various grades."

"The plans show a carefully thought-out development which will provide most of its own facilities, such as snow removal. All the roads will be constructed and maintained entirely at the owner's expense."

Access would be from Hammond Pond Parkway.

The F Zone was created by the Newton Board of Aldermen in 1958 to permit such structures. Newton's highest buildings now are six stories. Last June the Aldermen rejected a proposed $35 million project of six 21-story apartments at Norumbega Park.

Newton Now 40 Per Cent Of UF Goal

Newton United Fund chairman Stanley Epstein reported at a "Bank Night Report Meeting" this week that Newton is one of the few communities in Greater Boston which has reached over 40 per cent of its goal.

As dozens of volunteer workers began counting the returns of solicitors, it is becoming apparent once again that Newton is "a great United Fund Community." Residents of this city are proving once again their interest in supporting the one hundred and eighty-eight agencies which rely on this annual appeal, he said.

Captains, district directors, village chairmen and literally thousands of solicitors are calling on each home within the city to help Newton reach its goal of $119,000.

Mr. Epstein, a Boston Attorney, stated:

"This is the first year that I have been Chairman of the Newton United Fund Drive and it has been a revelation. The cooperation which we have received from almost Ceremonies Mark Veterans Day In Newton

A pledge of allegiance to Boy Scouts of Troop 7 and invocation by Rev. Wilbur Kingwill of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville, opened Veterans' Day services last Saturday at War Memorial Building, Newton City Hall.

The speaker was Dr. David B. Stearns, past department surgeon, who warned that "we must learn to spread the concepts of our economic system and our political freedom; we need not be shy or apologetic about either."

"The recent advances of desegregation point out what we can achieve when we do make an effort to remember the principles on which our country rests," he declared.

Attending were representatives of various veterans organizations in the city. Taps was sounded by Francis Daly, and the Madrigal Singers of Newton High School were directed by Mrs. Geraldine Seaver. Program chairman was Thomas J. Peterson.

Rte. 128 Work

Plan Shift Of Charles River Bed

The course of the Charles River near the Pillar House in Newton Lower Falls will be shifted to a more westerly course during the corrective work underway in Newton and Weston on Rte. 128.

The State Department of Public Works described the 1.5 mile project as designed to widen and relocate the artery which at that point carries a series of reverse curves. It also contains several ramp openings which do not meet modern highway standards.

Nine bridges are involved in the project being done by the J. F. White Co., of Westwood, which bid $3,428,936.60 for the contract. The job is expected to cover 28 months and traffic on Rte. 128 will not be hampered by the work, the DPW said.

A new section of the highway will be built slightly to the west and eliminated will be the long, gradual curve in Rte. 128 which starts at the Massachusetts Turnpike and extends to Grove street.

Already under construction is the bridge at Rte. 16. Other bridges will be located at two points crossing the Charles River over Quinobeguin road, under Grove street, under the Boston & Albany Railroad at two locations, under Riverside road, and over the Metropolitan tan District Commission cultivates.

The DPW said the two Charles River bridges will be built at the Newton-Wellesley line and at the Newton-Weston line.

Oppose Petition For Newtonville Apartment Unit

Plans to construct four brick structures to contain 36 apartments at 134 North street, Newtonville, were opposed at a public hearing Monday night by 12 residents of the area who presented a petition bearing 96 names in opposition.

The hearing was held by the Planning Board and Al-hermanic Claims and Rules Committees, conducted by Chairman Harry H. Ham. The petition was taken under advisement.

Atty. Arthur S. Scipione of 259 Walnut street, Newtonville, told the joint committee that each proposed building would be 2½ stories high, would have basement apartments, and four apartments on each of the two stories. Each would cost $50,000.

He said there would be spaces for 46 cars and the apartments would be occupied by older residents and would not affect the school population.

The opposition was led by Marlowe Sigal of 59 North street, who said it was his fifth appearance against apartment houses which he termed inconsistent with the character of the neighborhood. A petition of the Clay Chevrolet Co. to erect three 150 watt lights at the rear of 431 Washington street, was opposed by Helen R. Sandstrom of the Rebecca Pomroy House and by Everett MacLean of 18 Hovey street, Newton.

Two Campfire girls, Joyce McKensie and Joan Mallore, from the Horizon Club of Auburndale, will assist the hostesses; Mrs. Harold H. Lounsbury and her committee from the Newtonville Garden Club will decorate the Homestead with flowers.

HOSPITAL LEADER—Gavel being presented to David L. Rosenberg of Newton, at right, new president of Jewish Memorial Hospital, by retiring president, Frank Kozol, who completed five terms as head and was elected honorary president.

Rosenberg Chosen New President Of The Jewish Memorial Hospital

Newton business and civic leader, David L. Rosenberg, has been elected president of Jewish Memorial Hospital. He succeeds Brookline Attorney, Frank L. Kozol, who completed five terms and was elected honorary president by the directors.

Honorary presidents of the hospital in addition to Kozol include Louis E. Hellmann, Newton, and David Stern, Newton Highlands. Elected honorary vice president of the hospital was Abram J. Berkowitz, Brookline.

Harold Wald of Brookline was chosen 1st vice president. Others elected vice presidents included Nathan Challant, Swampscott; Mrs. Michael Weinbaum, Newton Centre; Mrs. Maxwell Smith, Newton; Mrs. Leo Cole, Newtonville; Mrs. Max Gass, Chelsea.

Kivie Kaplan of Chestnut Hill was re-elected treasurer; Mrs. Helmar M. Raphael of consider himself a smoker; a smoker as a student who had smoked at least 10 cigarettes in the past and who now considered himself to be a smoker.

Based on these standards, the answers to Dr. Salber's initial questionnaire revealed that the percentage of students who were smokers at the time of the survey increased regularly, among boys, from seven per cent in the 7th grade to 46 per cent in the 12th grade, and, among girls, from one per cent in the seventh grade to 55 percent in the 12th grade. In the latter grade 18 per cent of the boys and 10 per cent of the girls, identified as smokers, were smoking five or more packages of cigarettes each week.

Age-wise — by grades, Dr. Salber's statistics tend to show that among boys, the older members of the classes were the heavier smokers. This difference in ages also held true for the girls though the difference in ages was considerably smaller.

Dr. Salber also noted that there appeared to be a shift to a younger age at the first experimentation with cigarettes, but commented that this particular statistic might reflect the difficulty of the older student to remember the date of his or her first cigar.

As defined by Dr. Salber: "Newton is an independent town of 92,384 inhabitants (1960 census) located about 10 miles west of the center of Boston. It includes representatives of all socioeconomic classes, but has more families in the middle-income and upper-income groups than is typical of the metropolitan area as a whole. It has its Chestnut Hill as honorary assistant treasurer; and Mrs. David Appleberg of Boston, assistant treasurer.

Re-elected as recording secretary was Mrs. Abraham Klayman, Newton.

The new hospital president, has served as a member of board of directors and vice president of the hospital. He is president of Boston Royal Petticoat Co. Inc. in Boston.

He is a trustee of Combined Jewish Philanthropies and Walter E. Fernald School in Waverly; treasurer of Apparel Industries of New England; honorary president of Apparel Lodge B'nai B'rith; a vice president of Patrons of Research of Beth Israel Hospital, member of President's Council of Brandeis University, Boston Rotary; United Lodge Masonic Order and Boston Chamber of Commerce. He is father of three boys and two girls.

own public-school system, which has a very high local and national academic reputation."

She referred to five previous surveys, based on questionnaires, and conducted among children from 15 through 17 in "near" London and in Oxfordshire, Scotland, Portland, Me., and Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada. Though the estimates are only roughly comparable, Dr. Salber noted that certain features stand out too markedly to be explained by minor methodologic differences.

"Among boys, prevalence of minor degrees of smoking does not vary remarkably between studies," the report said, "but prevalence of fairly heavy smoking (one package or more per week) is substantially higher in the North American than in the British areas. This prevalence is about equally high in Winnipeg and Newton."

"For girls, the difference between North American and British areas are much greater than for boys. Smoking at the level of one package a week or more appears to be almost nonexistent in Britain, but to have a frequency of 10 to 25 per cent in North America. The prevalence of moderately heavy smoking among girls is much higher in Newton than in any previously surveyed area."

Associated with Dr. Salber in the Newton survey have been Elizabeth Goldman, Magda Buka and Barbara Welsh, all research assistants in the Department of Epidemiology at the Harvard School of Public Health.

Dr. Salber's research is supported in part by the American Cancer Society.

CATHOLICS GET INSURANCE AT LOW COST

Catholic men and women now get low cost hospital insurance from our non-profit Society. Here is an example. A Catholic man under 61 can now pay only $2.05 a month and receive $50 each week while hospitalized for any accident or sickness covered by the insurance of our non-profit Society. Payments of $100 or $150 are also available for a slightly higher cost. Catholic women get an identical policy for $2.35 a month.

Payments are made in addition to any other insurance, including Workmen's Compensation. You spend the money as you wish—for hospital bills, doctor bills, or expenses at home. You use your own doctor and choose any lawfully operated hospital. Your insurance begins the first day you are in the hospital. You need this policy now—inflation has increased hospital rates 375% since 1940. As a result, most people do not have enough insurance. People who used their insurance last year found that it paid an average of only 31c of every dollar needed.

This insurance is offered to you by the Catholic Association of Foresters (formerly Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters). It has paid out over $62,000,000 in benefits to Catholic families. A variety of life insurance and hospital insurance policies are offered by this eighty-two year old Fraternal benefit Society. By charter, memberships are available only to practical Catholics.

Get all the facts on this low cost protection. Mail the coupon today for free information. There is no obligation, of course. Don't delay. One person in every three families will be in the hospital this year.

Fire Chief
Gives Winter
Safety Hints

Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr. of the Newton Fire Department, pointed out today that the winter season is approaching and that residents should give serious thought to heating equipment, especially space heaters. He offered the following suggestions for installation and operation of these units.

- Heaters always should be placed level in a spot where there is no danger of tipping them over.
- The job of filling oil heaters should be done with extreme care—preferably outdoors, and never while heater is hot or in use.
- Keep all heaters a safe distance from bedding, clothing, furniture and other combustibles.
- Do not place heaters in a position so that the exits will be blocked.
- Don't half-fill or partially-fill your oil container! When you fill the container, make sure you fill it up all the way.
- Don't use cold or chilled oil. The fuel you use should be near room temperature before burning in your space heater.
- Above all, don't use a half-filled container of cold kerosene or oil.

"If these suggestions are followed the chances of fire from this type of heater will be greatly reduced and make our community a safer place in which to live," the Chief concluded.

Newton Free Library Has Rug Exhibit

An exhibit on oriental rug making is currently featured at the Newton Free Library, 414 Centre street. The development of oriental rug making is traced from early times. Examples of various types including a genuine Turkish prayer rug are on display.

An actual rug loom and tools of the rug maker are of special interest to the student of this ancient art.

The exhibit is made possible through the courtesy of Miss Mildred Chamian of the City Oriental Rug Company of Newton. The arrangements were made by Mrs. Violet I. Johnson of the library staff.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs is preparing a compromise plan for the creation of a new Newton Traffic Commission which would function in an advisory capacity.

A previous proposal by the Mayor for the establishment of a three-member Traffic Commission which would assume some of the authority now exercised by the Aldermanic Board, was rejected by a 147 vote of the Aldermen. Gibbs, who blasted the action, will try along a different line either later this year or early in 1962.

Under the plan he is now working out, all traffic matters would be automatically referred to a new Traffic Commission for consideration and recommendations.

The Commission would have only advisory powers, and its recommendations would not be binding.

How Would You
Bid and Play

By JACK KUSHNER
Here is a hand from the recent Worcester Sectional Tournament. The success of making the bid seemed to hinge on whether the bidder showed a five card major suit, even though it was weak.

North	South
S-A	S-32
H-1062	H-J84
D-KQJ876	D-10952
C-863	C-Q1052

For some reason south did not bid spades at any time. East had no problem since spades were the only unbid suit. See what happened. West's 7 forced the singleton ace, the only entry to the north hand which had six beautiful diamond tricks. North had to lead a diamond to the ace to ready his long suit; but his lead of a low spade was bad. West ran four spade tricks as East discarded three diamonds. Declarer allowed West to make the heart king, and then East to make the heart jack, for only in that way could he get two heart tricks on the board. A low club from the board was allowed to go to West's 10. This sets up East's club king to set the hand by four tricks.

Had South bid spades early, it is unlikely that East would have led a spade. Any other lead would allow the hand to be made — six diamonds and three aces for the nine tricks.

4-PRONGED HUNT FOR BANK BANDITS

FBI Joins Search For Bank Loot

Aroused investigators have mounted a four-pronged hunt for clues to the Halloween masked gunmen—one armed with a sub-machinegun—who fled with some $63,505 in cash Monday in a daylight hold-up of a Chestnut Hill bank.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, State Police crime laboratory technicians and the office of the Middlesex County District Attorney, joined Newton police in a co-operative effort to find some trace leading to capture of the bandits and recovery of the loot.

Dressed alike, the bandits ambushed five employees of the Garden City Trust Company at 232 Boylston street, Chestnut Hill, when they reported for work, waited for the time clock to open the vault at 8 a.m., then looted the vault and night depository. It marked the second time the bank was robbed since it was founded two years ago. Early in August, 1960, three bandits disguised with silk stocking masks, entered through a rear door, cowed four employees and fled with $6,000.

Monday's holdup investigation was under direction of Police Chief Philip Purcell and Capt. William J. Burke. Newton Alderman Joseph G. Bradley was assigned to the probe by District Attorney John J. Dorney, while Special Agent Thomas L. McEnaney, former Newton patrolman, was among the FBI investigators.

Turkey Day Games 'Away' For Newton High Teams

Newton Is At Brookline; Newton South vs Hingham

Newton's two high school gridiron teams—Newton High and Newton South High—engaged opponents on "foreign" fields in the traditional Thanksgiving morning gridiron clashes.

One of the oldest gridiron rivalries in the State — Newton vs. Brookline High will be resumed at 10:30 a.m. at Brookline High Field in the 64th renewal of the rivalry between the Orange, and the Crimson and Red squads.

Brookline is a top-heavy favorite.

At the same hour, the Garden City's newer schoolboy squad, Newton South tackles Hingham High School at Hingham Field and it should be a bang-up game, although South has a definite edge.

Things haven't gone too well this season for Coach Bob Malone's boys at Newton High. To date the Orange has a record of one win, a tie and six losses.

Brookline, on the other hand, clicked off six wins and two defeats.

The schedule this season has matched a Newton team against some of Greater Boston's most gifted powerhouses. It was just two years ago that Newton South's grid team was formed, and if you were to pick the best of the two Newton teams, you'd come up with a powerful contender.

As it is, Newton South did pretty well this year with five wins and two losses.

Last September 23, Newton lost to Everett 22-8 and then went to Cranston, R. I., to register its lone victory, 12 to 6. Then on successive Saturdays Newton lost to Brockton 30-6, Watertown 14-12 and Arlington 18-14. Then came a tie with Medford 6-6.

Beverly overpowered Newton 44-22 and Waltham had an easy time, 20-0.

Coach Harry Downs Brookline boys started with a rush and won five in a row: 28-0 over Weymouth; Waltham 28-8, Leominster 24-6, Brockton 14-0 and Quincy 28-0. Then Arlington swamped Brookline 35-0, Brookline beat Waltham 14 to 0, and Beverly edged the Townsies by a touchdown, 11 to 6.

Newton South started its season with two losses, 12 to 6, against a powerful Framingham team (which came close to stopping Wellesley and 12 to 6 against Wakefield.

Then South won five in a row on successive Saturdays. They took Stoneham 20 to 8; beat Marlboro 18 to 0; beat Melrose 19 to 6; swamped Stoughton 28 to 0 and also whitewashed Needham 18 to 0.

South is tackling a pretty good ball club in Hingham. — GAMES "AWAY" —

Family Reunions Unite Community On Thanksgiving

Schools Begin Federal Aid Pupils' Check

Newton school officials have begun the semi-annual check of parents employed on federal property who send children to Newton schools to determine how much the United States government would pay in Federal Aid.

Last year there were 525 "federally connected" pupils, or 3.2 per cent. Newton received $105,000, or $207 for each child counted. The survey is in connection with Public Law No. 874 passed by the 81st Congress to help relieve the tax load on communities where the population has risen.

Family reunions and bountiful turkey dinners will mark observance of Thanksgiving here which will follow closely the tradition inaugurated more than three centuries ago by the Pilgrim fathers.

No Indians will be lurking in nearby fields or woods. No blunderbuss will be within easy reaching distance. No unexplored frontiers remain except for those in the vast reaches of outer space.

Yet, the same spirit which prompted the early Pilgrim settlers to gather together to give thanks for their blessings will pervade most homes.

The turkey may be more plump and probably more tender. Along with the delicacies which make up the fixings, it will be cooked in a modern range instead of on a fire in an open hearth. The table napery will be a more gleaming white than anything the Pilgrims knew, the setting and surroundings much more comfortable and luxurious.

Yet, in an era when scientists are planning the first flight to the moon this will be an old-fashioned Thanksgiving. Even in a swiftly changing world the prayers will be much the same — prayers of thanks for the blessings that are ours.

The Thanksgiving scene in dwellings in this community will be repeated — RELAXATION TO BE ENJOINED —

New MDC Skating Rink Ready Soon For Opening

The spanking new $475,000 Metropolitan District Commission facility for winter and summer recreation at the junction of Beacon St., and Chestnut Hill Ave., is rapidly nearing completion and is expected to be opened in a few weeks.

It will provide recreation to residents of Allston, Brighton, Brookline, Chestnut Hill and Newton. There will be a skating rink and pool.

The only delay in actual construction has been caused by the slow arrival of huge, laminated wooden beams for the roof of the rink. The arched supports were shipped from Oregon via railroad gondola cars which could not exceed a speed of 15 miles per hour, lest the beams become damaged.

Construction was undertaken last May by the J. M. Construction Co., of Boston, using plans and specification prepared by the Hub architectural firm of Whitney, Atwood and Norcross.

The skating rink will measure 85x200 feet and it will accommodate upwards of 800 persons at any given time. The pool, which will be ready for use next spring, will measure 50x140 feet. A large clubhouse will accommodate the — SKATING RINK —

Newton City Employees Get Blue Cross Cut

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs announced today that Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage has been reduced 13 per cent for individuals and 13 per cent for family coverage, effective Nov. 1 through Oct. 31, 1962.

The savings will be shared by employees of the City of Newton and the City equally, as the premium is on a 50-50 basis.

For cases incurred on or after November 1, 1961 increased benefits, according to the following changes will be provided:

1. The restriction which limited all admissions within 90 days to one set of eligible benefit days has been changed to apply only to medical and maternity admissions. Any admission for surgery or accident care will be entitled to the full number of days, regardless of previous hospitalizations.

2. The ten-day lifetime limit for treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis in a participating hospital has been removed. Such admissions are now entitled to the full number of benefit days.

3. For Blue Cross members eligible for an overall maternity indemnity allowance toward the hospital's charges, up to an additional $20 will be allowed toward the hospital's charges for maternity anesthesia when provided as a hospital service.

4. Newborns who weigh five pounds or less at birth will receive regular Blue Cross benefits, according to the parent's coverage. Previously, the maximum weight was four and one half pounds. This change does not pertain to Blue Shield, since it already contains this coverage.

Mayor Gibbs further stated: "The expansion of benefits is another step in providing the broadest possible coverage with a minimum number of restrictions for cases incurred during our new contract year. This program dramatically has proved its worth to our employees in time of need and it is a pleasure to announce these broadened Hospital Surgical and Medical Benefits at reduced costs."

One of the victories was the 22-6 game against Stoughton. This is the only team which both Newton South and Hingham met this year. South beat Stoughton 28 to 0.

In other games this season Hingham lost to Danvers, 22 to 8, beat Whitman-Hanson 12-6, beat Abington 2-6, tied Canton 12-12; was swamped by Wellesley 40-0, lost to Portsmouth, N.H. 14 to 8 and in its last outing topped North Quincy, 24 to 8.

when the constitution of the United Church was adopted and put into effect.

The early history of the Congregational Churches is intertwined with the early history of Massachusetts and New England. In 1629 the Massachusetts Bay Colony was chartered and as a result of this movement to America came the group from New England known as the Puritans. The first church to be founded by this group was the Salem Church, which became the second church in New England.

Rev. Dr. Buschmeyer was elected the first secretary of the United Church of Christ last July. He came to the post from Washington, D. C., where he served for four years as assistant general secretary of the National Council of Churches, and director of its offices for liaison with the Federal Government.

He was associate minister of the General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches and director of its Department of Ministry from 1949 to 1957. He has traveled widely in the United States and abroad in the interests of theological schools and chaplains in the armed forces. He has been active in various aspects of the ecumenical movement.

needs of both skating and swimming enthusiasts during the respective seasons.

When the rink is opened to the public, skating hours will be from 9 a.m. to Noon, 2-5 and 7-10 p.m. Persons 16 years of age or older will be charged 50 cents; below age 16, 25 cents; and 10 cents per session for all children on Saturday mornings.

High School hockey practice sessions, to be scheduled at still-undetermined hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays, will cost $10 per hour, with a $15 per hour price tag for actual scrimmage games. Rink rentals to non-profit groups will be $10 per hour, with rentals to private groups pegged at $25 hourly.

The clubhouse will contain a refreshments stand, a skate-sharpening shop and a skate-rental concession, besides 16 showers for boys and eight for girls.

The rink roof will consist of corrugated aluminum sheets fastened to the arched laminated beams, with corrugated plastic skylights designed to admit light and repel heat from the sun which could affect the surface of the ice.

The aluminum sheeting is being supplied and erected by Marsh and Truman Co. of Chicago, while the curved roof beams are being provided by Wood Lam Inc. of Tacoma, Wash. Plastic roof skylights are being installed by New England Erection Co.

The swimming pool will open June 15 through Sept 15, with an admission charge of 10 cents per person over 18 years of age and five cents for those younger. The pool will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Women Voters' Discussion To Feature Civil Service

The Newton League of Women Voters will hold discussion units during the week of November 27, the subject to be "State Civil Service."

For the past two years the committee has been studying the public personnel system in Massachusetts. This year, in conjunction with all other leagues in Massachusetts, the Newton members will try to arrive at some consensus of feeling in the following areas:

formation of state wide merit system association, centralizing state personnel agency, staffing and appropriations, use of eligible list pending examination appeals, upgrading all exams when one is upgraded through appeal, oral examinations, educational requirements, in-service training, freeze-ins, civil defense under civil service, appointment of commissioners and director, veterans' preference.

In connection with this study, Newton was one of thirteen local leagues responsible for the publication "The Merit System in Massachusetts," a comprehensive summary embodying the results of the study made by the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts. It was complemented highly by Newton Police Chief Philip Purcell after reading the publication.

The Civil Service units were planned by the following committee: Mrs. Lester Radlo, chairman, Mrs. Norman Rosenberg, vice-chairman, Mrs. Arnold Rosoff, Mrs. Arnold Mork, Mrs. Philip Paisner, member of the Civil Service committee of the group.

CHIEF PRAISES BOOKLET—Chief Philip Purcell, of the Newton Police Department, was highly complimentary in his discussion of Women Voters' publication, "The Merit System in Massachusetts" with, left to right, Mrs. Lester Radlo, chairman, and Mrs. Philip Paisner, member of the Civil Service committee of the group.

Interested Newton women are invited to attend any of the seven unit discussion meetings scheduled as follows: Tuesday, Nov. 28, 7:45 p.m., Newton Centre, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Williams, 30 Jacobs Terrace; Wednesday, Nov. 29, 9:45 a.m., Newtonville, at the Newtonville Library, 345 Walnut St. (Please use Highland Ave. entrance); Wednesday, Nov. 29, 9:45 a.m., Newton Highlands, at the home of Mrs. George Rubin, 40 Druid Hill Road; Wednesday, Nov. 29, 7:45 p.m., Newton Centre, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Manello, 38 Morseland Ave.; Thursday, Nov. 30, 9:45 a.m., Newton Highlands, at the Newton Highlands Workshop, 72 Columbus St.; Thursday, Nov. 30, 9:45 a.m., West Newton, at the home of Mrs. Leston Havens, 22 Winthrop St.; Thursday, Nov. 30, 7:45 p.m., Waban, at the home of Mrs. Stanley Backer, 5 Irving Road.

It should be noted that the Tuesday morning unit usually held at the home of Mrs. Joel B. Leighton, 31 Colgate Road, Newton Lower Falls, will not be held this time. Members usually attending this meeting are requested to attend another unit which they find convenient if they so desire.

LEE LUVISI
Young Pianist Appears Here November 26th

Pianist Lee Luvisi, who will appear on Sunday, November 26th at 4 p.m., at the Newton High School Auditorium, for the Newton Community Concerts, has—at age 24—a list of accomplishments in the music world which are remarkable by any standard. For three years he has been an established concert artist of high standing.

When Luvisi made his New York recital debut in 1957, New York's critics commented upon his "rich natural gift, technically disciplined to a point of total control and fluency," and called the recital "one of the most unusual in recent memory."

Following his debut, Luvisi played with the New York Philharmonic, Louisville and Richmond Symphony Orchestras, and in a 1960 appearance with the Philadelphia Symphony "swept the audience off its feet and was given a prolonged ovation."

In the spring of 1960 Luvisi was the youngest contestant in the Brussels Piano Competition where he won a $1500 prize and an invitation to tour Europe during the winter of 1961.

Bank Bandits—

Included in the clues uncovered by investigators were a crowbar, a flashlight, can vas folding beach chair and hundreds of feet of twine which could have been used for binding victims of the holdup.

Investigators theorized the bandits gained entrance to the bank through a second floor window. This could have been reached by climbing to the roof of an auto, thence to an overhang above the drive-in teller's window and the roof above the teller's cage.

The entrance must have been forced some time during the night because the gunmen were in the bank when the treasurer, Joseph E. Bayer, 43, of Norwood, arrived at 7:45 a.m.

All the bandits were garbed alike. They were between 35 and 40 years of age, wore light, steel-gray plastic raincoats with dark clothes underneath, pink and red Hallows masks on their faces, black peaked caps and blue, gauntlet-type gloves.

Victims told investigators the leader was about five feet, 10 inches tall and weighed about 180 pounds. The other two men were slightly smaller.

Teller John Naughton, 28, of 25 St. Rose street, Jamaica Plain, related how death brushed closed to him and four fellow-hostages while all waited for the time clock to open the vault.

Crouched on the floor of an arcaway just inside the rear door were Naughton; guard-custodian Timothy Riley, a retired Newton patrolman; Mr. Bayer; bookkeeper Charles McWilliams, 23, of Wollaston and Charles E. Dockser of 12 Drumlin street, Newton Centre, president of the bank.

The bandits stood over them, one with the "Tommy" gun and the others with pistols, outwardly calm, but then the tension began to show.

"The bandits thought we were stalling," Mr. Naughton said. "The leader was getting impatient to open the vault. We told him we couldn't open it because of the time clock. He said, 'Don't stall with the combination or you'll get it now.'"

"Then the lock went off and they made Bayer open it. The vault is a key-and-combination vault; you need both to open it. Then they made him open the cage door inside."

"They cleaned out the vault, stuffed the money in a single pillowcase, made us all go in to the vault and closed the cage door behind us," Mr. Naughton said.

Mr. McWilliams gave investigators an account which emphasized the planning which characterized the hold-up.

"I walked down into the main section of the bank, turned right and walked to the end of a line of tellers' cages. A man was there with a pistol, behind one of the cages, and he got me," McWilliams said.

"Another man with a machine gun was in Mr. Bayer's office. I didn't see the third man. He must have been on lookout."

"The man that got me forced me into a back room, kind of an arcaway near some stairs leading to the second floor. Then Bayer was brought in and as the others arrived, they joined us."

"While we were in this room one of the gunmen asked 'Who opens the vault?' and Bayer said he did. One man took Bayer to the vault and when it was opened, he cleaned it out."

"Then they brought the rest of us to the vault and put us there. They closed the cage door but left the outer door half open."

Mr. Bayer's story was brief and to the point. "As I entered the bank," he said, "a guy with a gun came up to me and said 'act natural; look as if you were performing your duties.' I did."

While the bank employees and the bandits waited for the time clock to open the vault, the bandits complained how cold the bank was, and one asked Mr. Bayer how many children he had.

"Four," the treasurer replied. "Well, if you want to see them for Thanksgiving, do what you're told," the bandit leader advised.

After the vault and night depository were cleaned out, one bandit pointed to the parking lot and asked if a light-colored 1960 Pontiac was his, and Mr. Bayer replied it was. He took his ignition keys and commented: "We can use it as a getaway car."

Three Boston patrolmen found the white getaway car parked on the grounds of a Jamaica Plain estate and it immediately was scrutinized for fingerprints and other possible clues.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Democrats Plan Gerrymander Of Congressional Districts

A Democratic Gerrymander, which would freeze out two Republican Congressmen, appears to be in the making on Beacon Hill.

Democratic leaders have decided that the GOP should absorb the entire impact of the State's loss of two seats in the national House of Representatives as a result of the 1960 census.

The Democratic members of the legislative redistricting committee have scrapped all the plans and proposals submitted to them for creating 12 new congressional districts instead of the present 14.

They will work out a plan of their own which would protect the seats of all eight Democratic Congressmen and break up two Republican districts.

The two GOP Congressmen who would be legislated out of office by the Democratic Gerrymander are Laurence Curtis and F. Bradford Morse.

Contrary to published reports, there is no "official" redistricting plan in the sense that the committee members know what cities and towns will be placed in what districts.

The Democratic politicians know what they want to do and what they say they will do, but they don't yet know exactly how they will juggle around various communities and sections to accomplish their objective.

While the full details of the plan have not yet been perfected, Democratic chieftains declare that it will be in final form by the Dec. 6 deadline, the last date on which it may be filed.

Whether Governor Volpe will block the contemplated Gerrymander with a veto is a big question. If he does, it would mean that all candidates for Congress would be forced to run state-wide next year. The Democratic-controlled Legislature would not be able to pass a redistricting law over Volpe's veto.

Democratic legislative leaders indicate that they are prepared to gamble that Volpe will sign the redistricting measure which is enacted by the Legislature and sent to his desk.

If they lose their gamble, the real victims would be those Democratic Congressmen who would be unable to win reelection in a state-wide fight.

Volpe has expressed the belief that a fair solution to the problem caused by the loss of two seats in Congress would be to wipe out one Republican and one Democratic district.

With the State now represented in the national House by eight Democrats and six Republicans, that would result in a 7-5 ratio.

Volpe hasn't said whether he would accept or reject a redistricting bill which set the stage for the election of eight Democratic and four Republican Congressmen.

Democratic politicians argue that he would have little alternative but to do so, maintaining that a chaotic situation would be created if all the characterized as a "gerrymander." They claim it is a fair solution to the problem confronting them.

At the same time they are openly partisan in their approach to the matter of establishing new congressional districts.

"We're in control of the Legislature. We're really running the State. Why shouldn't we protect the members of our own party? What do you think the Republicans would do if they were in power?" That is the essence of the statements made and the questions asked by influential Democratic legislators.

The Democratic plan for carving the State into 12 congressional districts, with its freeze-out of Curtis and Morse, will be the subject of a terrific battle on Beacon Hill, with angry charges and counter-charges.

Republican leaders will raise the cry of "Gerrymander" which will be correct, and will accuse the Democrats with being unfair and using their legislative power to their own advantage, which also will have a strong foundation of truth.

Democratic orators will retort that the Republicans attained political pique only when they were in the minority in the Legislature, that they didn't hesitate to steamroller through Gerrymander bills when they were running the State government.

The Democrats will recall that just 20 years ago the Republicans pushed through a law which created two congressional districts for GOP leaders, one for Christian A. Herter, then the Speaker of the House, the other for Angier Goodwin, then the president of the Senate.

The cold, hard fact is that in adopting a congressional Gerrymander bill the Democrats will be emulating what the Republicans have done in the past. That doesn't mean, of course, that the Republicans were right 20 years ago; that the Democrats are right now.

In fact, when Christian Herter was Governor and the Republicans controlled both branches of the Legislature in 1954, Herter called a halt to a proposed GOP Gerrymander.

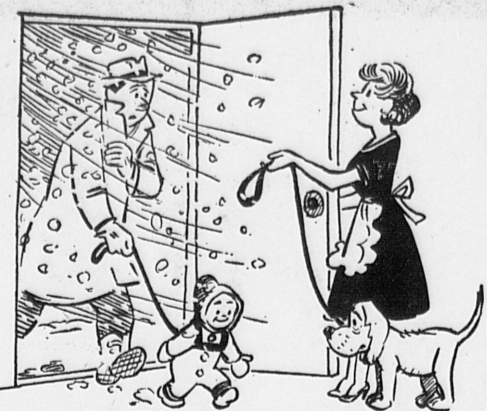

He was apprehensive of the public reaction if a Republican Legislature passed and a Republican Governor signed a redistricting bill that was patently unfair.

That is a consideration to which the Democratic leaders might well give a little heed. The people may resent being shuffled from one congressional district to another like so many political pawns. And they might vent that resentment in the privacy of their polling places next November.

If Volpe signs the bill which liquidates Congressmen Curtis and Morse, Curtis probably will be the Republican nominee for the U. S. Senate next year. It is doubtful that any other member of the GOP would be strong enough to defeat him for the Senate endorsement under such conditions.

If Volpe vetoes the bill, forcing all candidates for Congress to run at-large, Curtis would wage a state-wide campaign for reelection to the national House, and Morse would be likely to enter the Senate race.

Nobody knows what Volpe will do when this issue confronts him. Indeed, Volpe himself presumably will not make his decision until he sees the precise nature of the bill passed by the Legislature.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By JANET SHAPIRO

Every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon, 10 students have lessons in Arabic and 20 students have lessons in Japanese. These courses were announced to all juniors by Mr. Richard Mechem, principal of NHS, last October.

Since both languages are two-year courses, they were open only to juniors. Taleh Kabarith, a Boston University graduate, teaches Arabic, and Miss Akemi Horie, also a graduate of Boston University, teaches Japanese.

Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, who emphasized the necessity of learning foreign languages in high school and in colleges, is in full support of these two new language courses and has accepted an invitation to come to Newton High School Dec. 18 which is the next PTSA meeting. Justice Douglas will discuss the U. S.'s foreign policy and how N.H.S. might affect it.

Recently, the members of the Associates Council wrote a letter to the board of trustees of the Librarians asking them to re-open the Newton libraries on Sundays. Before the depression they were open on Sundays. The council suggested two reasons why this step should be taken: (1.) more residents of Brookline use their library on Sundays than on weekdays (Brookline being a comparable residential area to Newton), and (2.) since most of N.H.S.'s activities occur on Saturdays, Sunday library hours would relieve week day study pressure.

Last week, under the advice of the Associates Council, 20 students helped process 12,000 envelopes for Mrs. Thresher of Newton who is the chairman of the fund raising drive for WGBH in this area.

On Nov. 21, the Independent Research Club of N.H.S. presented a science symposium in Building II for interested parents and students. Visiting scientists lead discussions in three major fields: Biology, Chemistry and Physics.

The Girls' Physical Education Department honored all girls of N.H.S. with an all-girl assembly Nov. 16. The narrator was Mr. Joseph Gifford from Boston University who expained movement in relation to design, music and drama. Dancers from Boston University's School of Fine and Applied Arts and from their Sargent College demonstrated the techniques of expressive dancing.

On the evening of Nov. 15 at N.H.S., the Newton Schools participated in "Art Night," a program devised to exhibit the art work of students from Newton's grammar schools, five junior high schools and the two high schools. Under the expert guidance of Miss Eleanor Elliot, supervisor of art education in the Newton schools, the evening was a success.

The representatives from N.H.S. and their exhibits were Rita Hoffman and Erika Rosenwald, drawing; Cheryl Wooten and Carla Valentine, cardboard construction; Bonnie Brown and Hope Daniels, lettering; Perry Little, sculpture; Fred Aronow, transparent painting; Richard Nathan, water colors; Carolyn Hill and Lorna MacKinnon, tempera painting.

FLUORIDATION NOTICE

It is probably too late to influence the election, but win, lose or draw, the people of Newton should be told of the prodigious amount of misinformation in the letter from Drs. Hayden, Frim and Tocci in your October 26 issue.

Drs. Hayden, Frim and Tocci would do well to learn the facts before they attempt to inform the people. Then, if they still think fluoride beneficial, they should prescribe it for their own patients in measured doses. They should not try to force it on the entire community in uncontrolled and uncontrollable amounts.

John Cochran and Bride Honeymooning In Europe

Now honeymooning in Europe are Mr. John Williams Cochran and his bride, the former Miss Carol Lucille Anderson, who were married recently in Hammond, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Anderson of Munster, Ind., and Mrs. Williams Cochran of Auburn, Ind., are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Eugene Balsley officiated at the 4:30 o'clock double ring ceremony in the First Methodist Church of Hammond.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's chapel-length gown was fashioned of bouquet taffeta. Her fitted bodice had a scoop neckline marked with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Her elbow-length illusion veil was fastened to a Juliet cap made of similar jewels. Her flowers were white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Nancy Kay Kyser of Scarsdale, N.Y., was maid of honor. Mrs. James W. Hunt of Newport, R.I., sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Robert C. Cochran of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Eleanor Northrod of portable chair before the television set and watch one of the games to be televised.

From universities and colleges will come scores of young men and women, away from home for the past two months, returning to enjoy Thanksgiving with their families.

For most persons Thanksgiving will be a quiet, leisurely day at home, a day of renewing old friendships and welcoming old friends, a day of good talk and of savoring the aromas which waft out from the kitchen, a day for admiring the well-browned roundness of the pump turkey and later of leaning back, well-fed, to see what the television channels offer.

Proprietors of local markets report that tender turkeys of all sizes as well as fixings to meet the most demanding or fastidious taste are available in abundant quantities.

Shelves and bins are stocked to meet any 11th hour shopping rush. Practically every imaginable delicacy is available for those who may prefer a departure from the traditional Thanksgiving menu.

Good Things to Eat for Day
Tons upon tons of good things to eat already have been carried into homes of the community. More will follow as elaborate preparations are made for the observance of Thanksgiving, 1961.

Even though this Thanksgiving comes to a nation at peace, some young men and women will be missing from the family dinner table Thursday because of the tensions of the cold war. Their absence will be keenly felt.

Some will be wearing the uniforms of their country. When Thanksgiving dawns, they'll be rising from military cots and bunks. Some will be in countries far from New England at outposts which serve to protect the national security.

Wherever they are, their thoughts on Thanksgiving will be with those back home.

However and wherever it is observed, Thanksgiving, 1961, promises to be one of the best and most festive. For the vast majority there are many reasons for thankfulness and thanksgiving in a land of freedom and plenty, a land where the iron hand of tyranny is unknown, a land where the people celebrate Thanksgiving in whatever manner they wish.

THE ORIGINAL THANKSGIVING FEAST took place after the Pilgrims completed a long, hard first winter and succeeded in the struggle to raise the crops vital to survival in the New World. The spirit of the momentous occasion was captured in Jennie Browncombe's "The First Thanksgiving." Feasts of Thanksgiving will be repeated in virtually every home here this Thursday.

Blue Laws Test Case In Newton

A test court case which may determine whether it is legal for a delicatessen to sell bread and cooked meat when the Sunday Blue Laws are in effect, looms as a result of the imposition of fines totalling $200 on a Newton Centre storekeeper.

At issue in the legal dispute is whether bread and cooked meat, when taken from the premises, constitute a meal.

Attorney Robert J. DeGiacomo, counsel for John Kaufman, doing business as John and Priscilla at 751 Beacon street, Newton Centre, argued that Kaufman can legally sell meals on Sunday or a holiday.

Rocky Divorce Puts Volpe Back in GOP Veep Picture

Governor Volpe is back in the political picture as a potential candidate for the Republican nomination for Vice President in 1964 as a result of developments which seemingly have dimmed New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller's Presidential prospects.

Volpe's immediate problem, of course, is to achieve reelection to the Governorship next year. Should he be defeated for a second term, he automatically would be eliminated from any consideration at the 1964 GOP national convention.

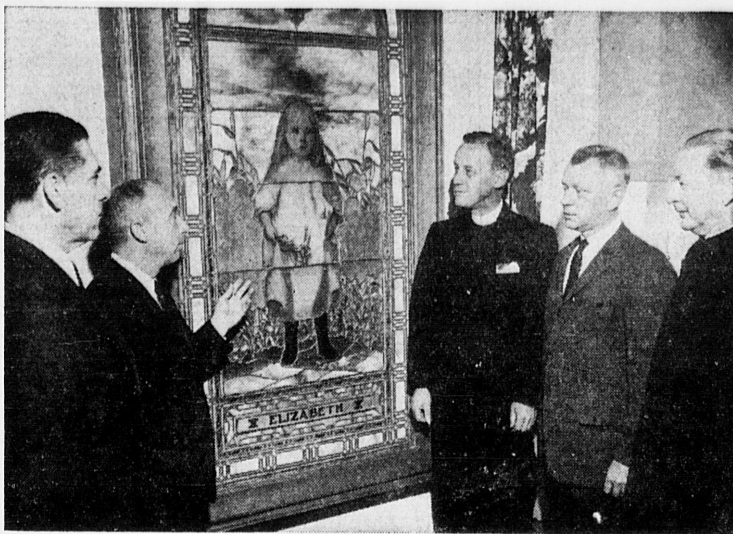

But if Volpe wins a second big victory in a basically Democratic State, he not only would attain national recognition but also would establish himself as one of the Republican party's brighter prospects.

UNITE IN HONORING HOSPITAL—Local clergymen, united this week in honoring Newton-Wellesley Hospital, admire stained glass portrait of Elizabeth Dennison in Children's Department. Left to right, Rabbi Arthur I. Gordon, Temple Emanuel; William S. Brines, hospital director; Rev. W. J. Kingwill, St. John's Episcopal Church; Dr. John Wallace, Wellesley Hills Congregational Church; and Rev. William J. Flanagan, St. Philip Neri Church.

All Faiths Pause To Note Long Newton-Wellesley Hospital Service

Churches and synagogues in Newton and Wellesley have reached back into history to observe 75 years of hospital service in the community.

During the past weekend, and in some instances during the coming weekend, more than 50 churches of all faiths have joined in the celebration of Newton-Wellesley Hospital Sabbath.

The first Hospital Sabbath three-quarters of a century ago coincided with the opening of the hospital in the western suburbs. Church-goers of 1886 were reminded in the Thanksgiving season how people had established the hospital for humanitarian service.

Behind the present-day observance is a reminder that the hospital and churches of the community have worked closely together over the years, and that the hospital came into being and has been perpetuated by people in their churches and in the community.

A luncheon at the hospital recently permitted area clergymen to view some of the modern services offered by the hospital. The informal meeting also served to thank clergymen for their help and assistance during the years in which the hospital has served area residents.

The founding of the hospital dates to the Fall of 1880 when a clergyman and physician were assisting an acutely ill, elderly woman. An extensive door-to-door search at midnight was required throughout the Newton villages for a person who would care for the suffering woman until morning. Following the

Fire Fighter Hurt In Fall

Firefighter Donald E. King, 32, of 3 Newland St., Auburn, was treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital Monday for a back injury suffered in a fall at the home of Mrs. Catherine F. Sullivan, 24 Garland Rd., Newton Centre, filled with gas fumes from a defective refrigerator.

The scheduled activities within the club are under way and classes have been started in printing, woodworking, bowling, tumbling, boxing, wrestling, arts & crafts, photography, model railroad; a full scale games room program rounds out a most comprehensive agenda.

There is also a variety of games arranged for the outdoor playground area and this phase of the program to date has been most effective.

Basketball in the three age groups which represent the club in the Newton City league have started practice on Tuesdays and will continue every Tuesday thereafter. The gym is made available to the Boys Club through the courtesy of the Newton Recreation Department.

The Midget Basketball team (100 lbs.) will play its games every Saturday morning and the All Star team will again be entered in the Boston Boys Workers Conference league. Interclub competition with area Boys Clubs YMCA's, Community Centers and Settlements houses are being scheduled and contests will get underway.

Local Property-Owners Can Rest Easy

Supreme Court Edict Has No Bearing Here

Mayor Sees No Change In Newton's Assessing Policy

Newton will not be affected by the recent Supreme Court decision outlawing sliding scale assessments for tax purposes, Mayor Donald L. Gibbs declared today.

The Mayor asserted that Newton assessors use the same measuring stick in placing the valuations on both business and residential properties.

"As far as I can see the Supreme Court ruling will have no impact upon Newton," Gibbs observed.

He said that he anticipates no change in Newton assessing policies because of the Supreme Court case stemming from a Springfield lawsuit.

Mayor Gibbs emphasized that there will be no city-wide revision of assessments because of the court opinion and that Newton property-owners can rest easy as far as next year's tax bills are concerned.

Chairman Edward A. Fahey of the Board of Assessors supported the Mayor's statement and agreed that the high court ruling will cause no change in methods or practices in his department.

Both Gibbs and Fahey said that assessments may be revised upwards in a few isolated cases to eliminate inequities, but they stressed that this would be done anyway, irrespective of the court decision.

Fahey explained that his department has been raising assessments on older, low-valued properties which are sold for several times the amount of their assessed valuations.

This practice will be continued, he added.

He said that Newton has had two revaluations since 1948 and is now in the process of a third which will be completed in about two and a half years.

Mayor Gibbs declared that the assessing policy in Newton is altogether different from that in a city — SEES NO CHANGE —

Fright gave wings to a scared burglar Friday night at the home of Mrs. Shirley Wallach at 99 Hammondswood road, Chestnut Hill, which he opened with a false key, and fled when he saw her in the hallway.

Mrs. Wallach called police immediately and eight officers under Sgts. Charles W. Kennedy and Robert F. Mahoney scoured the area without success.

Newton City Fathers Bow To Blue Laws

Enforcement of the ancient Blue Laws will prevent both the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee from holding their customary New Year's Day meetings.

Ordinarily, the two bodies meet in brief sessions on the holiday to transact some business and to elect their presiding officers.

However, City Solicitor Matt B. Jones has ruled that neither board can hold a meeting or transact any business this coming New Year's Day because of the Blue Laws.

Newton's United Fund drive this year thus far has raised 104 per cent of last year's total, it was announced this week by local United Fund leaders.

A mopping up operation is being conducted by local Fund volunteers to insure that every residence and small business has been contacted and that all worker's reports are in.

Greater Boston United Fund leaders announced that a record $9,504,001 was raised in this year's campaign. The figure was announced at a "Final Dinner" marking the close of the drive.

Auto Attack-

The fracas was without provocation in the traffic jam after the Brookline-Newton high school football game. Jay H. Lavelly, 19, of 304 Central Ave., Auburndale, was driving the car of his father, B.U. Prof. John J. Lavelly. Young Lavelly, a Yale freshman, said the car was caught in traffic at Cypress and Franklin St., Brookline.

He said a gang of youths approached, one of them opened the car door and said "these look like Newton kids, let's get 'em." Members of the gang tried to open car doors.

Windows were smashed and the car was dented with blows from metal pipes.

Richard Lockwood, 19, a Lehigh University freshman of 28 Bullough, Pk., West Newton, was struck in the face and suffered a slight cut, as he and the others attempted to roll up the windows and lock the doors.

Others in the damaged station wagon were Mark Peters of 7 Windermere Rd., Newton, and Stephen Greenblatt, also of Newton, both freshmen at Yale, and Skipworth Calvert of 4 Windermere Rd., Newton high student.

Test Case-

Captain John N. McMullen, police prosecutor, maintained that the sale of a loaf of bread and cooked meat was not the sale of a meal.

Judge Gardner M. Russell imposed fines amounting to $200 on Kaufman for allegedly violating the Lord's Day statutes on three Sundays and Veterans' Day.

DeGiacomo said he would appeal the case to the Superior Court and, if the district court ruling is upheld there, would take it to the Supreme Judicial Court.

Political Highlights

Volpe would become a logical choice as the Vice Presidential running mate to team with Richard M. Nixon if the latter were allowed to make a second run for the Presidency in 1964.

He also would be a strong contender for second place on the GOP national ticket if the Presidential standard-bearer were chosen from the Middle West.

This may seem unusual in view of Volpe's limited political experience and the fact that he is now completing only his first year in elective public office. Yet, it is a cold political fact which few experts will dispute.

The stakes will be high, indeed, for Volpe in next year's election campaign.

Some observers believe that the reason Volpe will stand for a second term as Governor next year rather than run for the U. S. Senate is that his objective is the Vice Presidential nomination in '64 and that he would have a much better chance of realizing it as a second-term Governor than as a freshman Senator.

Volpe's gamble did not loom as a very good one when Nixon announced he would be a candidate for the California Governorship in 1964 and would not run for the Presidency in 1964 even though he did not close the door to a Presidential draft.

That seemed to eliminate Nixon from the 1964 Presidential sweepstakes and to establish Governor Rockefeller as the probable candidate who would carry the Republican banner against President Kennedy three years from now.

Rockefeller was considered a fairly safe bet to win reelection as Governor of the nation's biggest State by a substantial plurality next year. That would put him far out in front as the GOP's Presidential hopeful for '64, the pundits reasoned.

If Rocky were the Presidential nominee, geographical considerations would compel him to choose his ticket mate from the Middle or Far West, not from the neighboring State of Massachusetts.

Even Volpe's closest associates and most enthusiastic boosters conceded this to be the case, although a few clung to the thin thread of hope that Senator Barry Goldwater might be the GOP Presidential standard-bearer and that he would want Volpe as his running mate.

The more realistic, however, realized that the northern liberals in the Republican party, who control the bulk of the votes at a national convention, would not take Goldwater as a Presidential candidate and that top GOP leaders wouldn't give him any more than lip-service.

Then came the surprise announcement that Governor and Mrs. Rockefeller are to be divorced and the sudden realization that this development may wash out Rocky as a Presidential prospect.

Even if Rockefeller wins reelection by an overwhelming margin next year, some of the staid but influential chieftains of the Republican party still would be reluctant to give him the Presidential nomination.

OUR READERS SAY

Hits Fluoridation Vote

Editor,
The Newton Graphic:

May I take this opportunity to also express my appreciation of your fine coverage of the fluoridation issue, as was done by Mrs. Thresher in her letter of Nov. 16, to your paper.

I would state, however, that there will be a need for an additional demonstration of your objective news coverage and editorial policies in the next few months. There are many shocked individuals like myself who cannot understand how in a city of nearly 100,000 persons, it is possible for 12,522 voters to make a decision which will affect the civil rights and possibly the future health of their 90,000 neighbors. A situation like this is by no stretch of the imagination a "mandate" for the city officials to proceed with the purchase of fluoridizing equipment without further public hearings.

In the absence of any other official channels for protest, your respected newspaper can perform a public service of enduring value by enabling individually helpless citizens like myself to arouse similar minded voters to this crucial issue, through your editorial and reader's letter columns.

Registrar's Recommendations For Winter Driving

"Many accidents and serious traffic delays on Massachusetts highways during past winters were caused by cars being stuck in snow or skidding on ice. Much of the trouble encountered by motorists could have been prevented by proper vehicle maintenance, equipment and more thoughtful driver practices," said Registrar Clement A. Riley today.

"As chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, I urge motorists to prepare NOW for hazardous driving conditions expected in the winter months before us.

"State and municipal snow removal teams will keep highways open as much as possible, but operators should compensate for existing conditions by adjusting driving habits and using proper safety equipment to prevent stalling and skidding on snow and ice.

"As a member of the association of state and provincial safety co-ordinators, I strongly endorse the suggestion of the safe winter driving league and its committee on winter driving hazards which believes the following information about traction on slippery roads should become common knowledge to every driver:

- (1) Good snow tires can provide up to 51 per cent better traction in loosely packed snow and up to 28 per cent improvement on ice than will regular tires if road conditions are not too severe or grades too steep.
- (2) Even the best snow treads cannot replace reinforced tire chains which provide 313 per cent better traction in snow and 409 per cent more traction on ice than will regular tire treads.
- (3) A car with regular treads travelling 20 MPH on dry pavement be stopped in 21 feet. In loose snow the distance increases to 60 feet and to 200 feet on glare ice. A car with good snow treads may be stopped in 52 feet in snow and 174 feet on ice while reinforced tire chains can cut the distance to 38 feet in snow and 77 feet on ice.

"As Registrar, I most earnestly solicit the wholehearted cooperation of every motorist during the ensuing winter months. Use of vehicles ONLY when necessary when snow and ice are on highways or when serious storms are threatened will reduce the hazards of driving," concluded Registrar Riley.

Pack 70 Cubs Donate Turkey Day Gift Boxes

The Cub Scouts of Pack No. 70 enjoyed their own Thanksgiving Day dinners all the more this year because they knew their good deeds made it possible for less fortunate to have a good meal.

They filled packages which were picked up by the Newton Welfare Department for distribution. They earned the money by doing extra chores or paid for the canned goods from their allowance. Each box contained the trimmings for a holiday meal.

A post-service discussion entitled "The School Child and the Christmas Celebration" will follow the regular Sabbath Eve Service at Temple Shalom of Newton tomorrow (Friday).

This timely subject will be approached from three different points of view. Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom, will be joined by Robert E. Segal, executive director of the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Boston, and Dr. Joseph S. Sabbath, assistant in Psychiatry, Harvard Medical School.

Rabbi Rothman will approach the subject from a religious angle; Mr. Segal will develop the sociological aspect, and Dr. Sabbath will discuss it from a psychological point of view. Guests are welcome.

Many Newtonites To Aid Israel Bonds Action Day

In the first response to the request for the enrollment of 3000 volunteers, more than 2000 Greater Boston men and women have enrolled as workers for Action Day — Sunday, Dec. 3 — in the all-out effort to help boost Israel Bond sales to the 1961 goal of $1,500,000.

More volunteers are needed in order to have a successful Action Day, stated Lawrence G. Laskey, general chairman, State of Israel Bonds. He appealed for massive recruitment of "thousands of Jewish men and women who care enough about Israel to give two hours of their time for the economic strengthening of the Jewish State."

On Action Day, the volunteers will visit more than 30,000 Jewish homes in the Greater Boston area to sell Israel Bonds. Funds from Bond sales are utilized to help Israel create and expand industries, build homes for immigrant families, and provide employment. The huge project of settlement of the Negev desert, which covers half of Israel will be financed in part by Israel Bond investments.

Action Day marshals who will direct the volunteers in the house-to-house campaign in the Newton area are Mrs. Morton M. Levine, Chief Marshal, Auburndale; Mrs. Joseph Gann, Chief Marshal, Mrs. Marcus A. Brener, Mrs. Frank Breznick, Bernard Schwechter and Leon L. Shulman, marshals for Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. Morris Levy, Chief Marshal, Newton; Mrs. George Daniels, Chief Marshal, and Mrs. Maurice Spitz, Newtonville and West Newton; Mrs. Norman Leader, Chief Marshal; Martin Alpert, Co-Chief Marshal, and Mrs. Edward N. Carpenter, marshals for Newton Highlands, Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls and Waban.

Mrs. Morris Rubin, Isaiah Tarmy, and Mrs. Isaiah Tarmy, Chief Marshals; Mrs. Hershey Bernstein, Mervin D. Gray, Irving B. Matross and event, the clergyman, enlisting the Mayor of Newton, pressed for the establishment of a community hospital.

Within six years, citizens had joined to form a non-profit hospital corporation, to purchase the present site of the hospital on Washington Street in Newton Lower Falls, and to erect a cottage hospital. The first 26 patients cared for during 1886 entered the hospital in June.

Thurs., Nov. 30, 1961, The Newton Graphic Page 5

In 1960, the hospital cared for nearly 9,000 bed patients.

In the early years, people in area churches supplied many of the hospital's needs. Old records indicate that jellies, bedding, carbolic acid, and dressings were among the items provided. In the 20th century, people are still helping their community hospital.

Today they help provide X-ray machines, volunteer services, and the numerous tools of medical progress developed for better patient care. In addition, women of the community sew articles for the hospital both in club and church groups, a tradition that has existed almost continuously since the hospital's founding.

CATHOLICS GET INSURANCE AT LOW COST

Catholic men and women now get low cost hospital insurance from our non-profit Society. Here is an example. A Catholic man under 61 can now pay only $2.05 a month and receive $50 each week while hospitalized for any accident or sickness covered by the insurance of our non-profit Society. Payments of $100 or $150 are also available for a slightly higher cost. Catholic women get an identical policy for $2.35 a month.

Payments are made in addition to any other insurance, including Workmen's Compensation. You spend the money as you wish — for hospital bills, doctors, or expenses at home. You use your own doctor and choose any lawfully operated hospital. Your insurance begins the first day you are in the hospital. You need this policy now — inflation has increased hospital rates 375% since 1940. As a result, most people do not have enough insurance. People who used their insurance last year found that it paid an average of only 31¢ of every dollar needed.

This insurance is offered to you by the Catholic Association of Foresters (formerly Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters). It has paid out over $62,000,000 in benefits to Catholic families. A variety of life insurance and hospital insurance policies are offered by this eighty-two year old Fraternal benefit Society. By charter, memberships are available only to practical Catholics.

Get all the facts on this low cost protection. Mail the coupon today for free information. There is no obligation of course. Don't delay. One person in every three families will be in the hospital this year.

Newton South Ends Fine Season; Newton High Aiming For 1962

Newton's two high school squads put away their football gear this week until next season — Newton South after a very successful campaign of six consecutive wins and two losses, and Newton High which has a lot of good boys coming up next year.

Newton South's Lions enjoyed a fine 22-0 Thanksgiving Day victory over a dangerous Hingham High opponent at Dickinson Stadium to conclude a season marred only by losses to Framingham and Wakefield.

Newton High held a powerful Brookline team to a 14-0 win at muddy Tech Field in their annual Turkey Day classic and gave the Tigers a record on the season of seven defeats, one win and a tie. The win gave Brookline a 7-2 record for this year and brought the 65 year rivalry to a 30-29-6 mark with Newton holding the edge.

Coach Bob Malone was far from disheartened. "Actually, we did well to stay in all the games that we did," he commented. "Things are looking up. We were better this year than last and the cycle is starting to turn in our favor. We have a lot of good boys coming up next year."

This year, however, Brookline's Co-captain Bobby Hillson returned after a month's layoff and teamed with his quarterback, Eric Heitman, to fashion the two-touchdown victory.

Hillson, a 180-pound fullback, carried the ball 22 times during the game against Newton and gained 149 yards. On his initial carry he picked up 33 yards to the Newton one, and from there Heitman rolled over for the first score. Hillson added two points on a carry.

In the fourth period a 25-yard punt return to midfield set the stage for the second Brookline TD. Hillson carried for three successive first downs and then Heitman unloaded his first forward pass attempt of the game which was a 16-yard strike to Pete Maggi for the TD.

Mercury Meteor Unveiled Today By Dealer Here

A Newtonville auto dealership—Holmes Motors, Inc., 667 Washington street, has been appointed to sell the Mercury Meteor, a completely new-sized car which will be introduced this month.

The Mercury Meteor will be unveiled across the country today, Nov. 30, at about 2,000 dealerships in the Lincoln-Mercury organization. Its introduction will climax the auto industry's Fall showings of the 1962 models.

The Meteor is regarded by the Lincoln-Mercury Division as a balance between the industry's compacts and big cars. Compared to its companions in the Mercury line, the Meteor is nine inches longer than the Comet and nearly a foot shorter than the Monterey.

In appearance, the Meteor emphasizes clean-lined styling. The car, which is built with a unitized body, incorporates features designed to reduce maintenance costs.

The new Meteor will be offered in four body styles—two- and four-door sedans in both a standard and custom series.

Fair Housing Committee Has First Meeting

The first meeting of the Newton Fair Housing Practices Committee, held recently at the Newton Community Center, was presided over by its new chairman, William J. Jones of 910 Watertown Street who is a fellow in Physics at Harvard.

It was reported at this meeting that the committee has 110 paid members, while receiving cooperation and endorsement from several hundred other Newton citizens. It was further estimated that over the past two years ten families, who might otherwise have found it impossible to settle in Newton because of race or religion, have satisfactorily located homes here, due predominantly to the help of the Fair Housing Practice Committee. Not included in this number are many other families who have been assisted in their house hunting, but have finally decided to settle in other communities.

The Newton Committee has at its disposal qualified speakers and stimulating films and would welcome the opportunity to present programs concerning prejudice, open occupancy housing or related subjects to interested groups of all ages. Information can be obtained by contacting George Hauser at DE 2-4055.

such as Boston where commercial property is assessed for its full value while residential property is assessed for a third or a half of its true worth.

"We don't do that," Gibbs stated. Even if Newton were forced to increase its assessments, the tax bills themselves would remain the same since a uniform, upward revision in assessments would lower the tax rate, it was pointed out.

"As far as I can see this does not create any problem for either Newton or its citizens," Gibbs asserted. "We will continue assessing properties just as we have been assessing them."

In the performance of Mr. Nelson's cantata, the chorus will be accompanied by the M.I.T. Brass Ensemble under the direction of Andrew Kazden. Appearing with the ensemble will be the flutist, Jane Young, who has been soloist at the Marlboro Festivals with Rudolf Serkin. "The Christmas Story" will be narrated by William Scar, well known in New England as the director of student activities for the Lutheran Church.

Broken Bottle Cuts Youth In Party Fracas

A West Roxbury youth is recovering from facial cuts and a Newton youth is at liberty in $2500 bail for a court appearance later as an aftermath to two attempts by a group of youths to crash a party at Roosevelt Rd., Newton Centre, Friday night.

Thomas Roddy, 18, of Stratford St., West Roxbury, required 65 stitches taken at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton, for cuts on the right ear and cheek. The cuts were sustained when a beer bottle broke during a fight. Treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital for a head injury was Lawrence Selig, Jr., of 755 Beaver St., Waltham.

A plea of innocent to a charge of assault and battery was made by Joseph A. Brouillette, Jr., 18, of 629 Watertown St., Newton, when arraigned in Newton District Court on Saturday. The case was continued to Dec. 8.

On Monday, Newton police found a hammer reportedly used in the fight in a field near Roosevelt Rd. According to police, four Newton youths riding in Selig's car were involved with the West Roxbury youths who were attending the party.

The Newton youths claimed they were riding by and stopped when they thought they recognized one, and the fight started. However, police said the same youths returned to

Funds Sought For Chinese Youth, Heart Patient

Denny Moy, local restaurant owner and president of the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association of Boston, was made honorary chairman of a drive, this week, to aid a young Chinese boy now in Children's Hospital who has recently undergone a delicate heart operation.

The 12-year old youth, son of an Army Colonel in the Nationalist Chinese Army, made the 12,000 mile trip to Boston several weeks ago for the operation, performed without charge by a Children's Hospital heart specialist.

Mr. Moy said the youth, and his father, who accompanied him on the trip, will have to stay in Boston for several months while the boy recuperates from the operation.

Mr. Moy said funds are being collected to defray board and room costs for the pair.

Committees have been formed in Wellesley, Newton, Needham, and in Boston's Chinatown for donations to the fund. Mr. Moy said that contributions may be sent to the Benevolent Association at 14 Oxford St., Boston.
